NOTICE.

THE Medical Practice of the late HENRY HALL SHERWOOD, M. D., is continued by us, as usual, at his late residence, 102 Chambers-street, New-York.

We also continue the preparation of his celebrated REMEDIES FOR CHRONIC DISEASES, based upon the Magnetic organization of the human system, as illustrated in his elaborate treatise upon that subject. These remedies consist of a compound preparation of chloride of Gold, Iodine, and some other articles, and have been attended with remarkable success in the treatment of Consumption and Scrofula in all its forms. The Medical Recipes of the late Dr. Sherwood being in our sole possession by his testamentary directions, and ourselves the only persons authorized or competent to continue his preparations, we would specially caution his many friends and the public generally against spurious imitations of them, sold under other or the same names. They can be procured only of ourselves or our authorized agents; and are always accompanied by Dr. Sherwood's Treatise upon the Motive Power of the Human System, a work of two hundred pages, duly secured by copyright. These remedies can be sent by mail or express to any part of the world without injury, and the terms are the same as they have been during the last ten years.

Address, H. H. SHERWOOD'S SUCCESSORS,

For the Removal and Permanent Cure of all Diseases arising from an Impure State of the Blood or Habit of the System

The proprietors have spent much time in bringing this preparation of Sarsaparilla to its present state of perfection; and the experience of fourteen years has furnished them the most ample opportunity to study. in their various forms, the diseases for which it is recommended, and to adapt it exactly to their relief and cure. Patients who wish a really good medicine are invited to give it a trial, and satisfy themselves of its superiority. The bottle has been enlarged to hold one Quart, and in its present improved form may safely claim to be the best and cheapest medicine of the age. It purifies, cleanses and strengthens the fountain springs of life, and infuses new vigor throughout the whole animal frame.

BLAKE'S PATENT FIRE-PROOF PAINT,

OR ARTIFICIAL SLATE.

This most singular and valuable Pigment I discovered in a stratum of rock in Sharon, near Akron, Ohio, in the spring of '44, but subsequently learned that it had been known for years, and not deemed of the least value. But from its firmness and uniformity of texture, I was led to believe it might be turned to something useful for the benefit of man, but for what particular use I had not the most distant idea. I commenced and continued my experiments, devoting my entire time, for two years, before ascertaining its great value. I then found by reducing the Pigment to a fine powder, and mixing it with Linseed Oil, to the consistency of thick paint, and applying this compound with a brush to either wood, bricks, tin, iron, or thick paper, in a few months the action of the atmosphere would turn this coating to a perfect Slate, protecting the substance covered from the action of the ATMOSPHERE and from FIRE. This discovery I considered of the greatest importance, as I believed I had discovered a desideratum that had for years been sought in vain. I applied and obtained from the government, on the 28th March, '48, a patent. The State Fair at Buffalo awarded me a Diploma, and the Fair of the American Institute a Medal, and the Examining Committee (of whom Dr. J. R. Chilton was chairman (and had some three years previous analyzed it), reported that it was an article superior to any thing that had ever been presented at the Fair as a Weather and Fire-proof Covering.

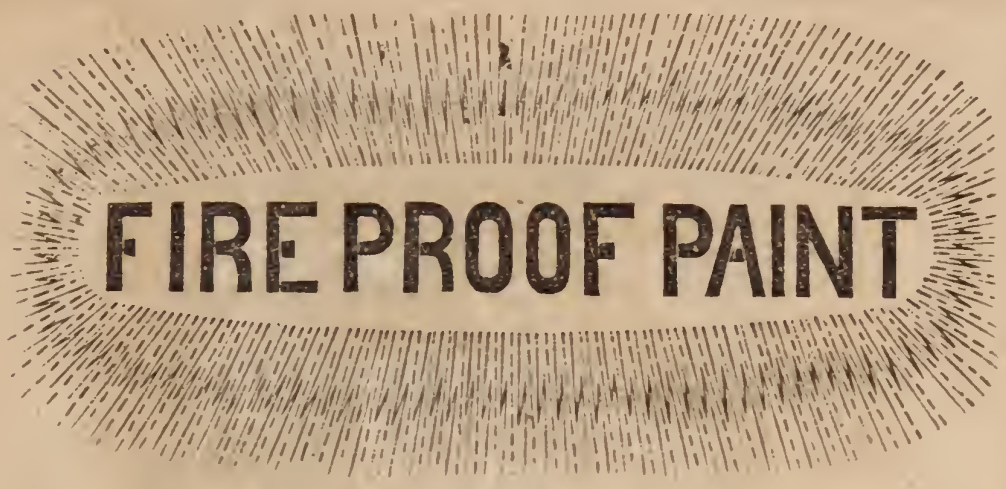

I have two original colors (black and chocolate), and by the addition of a small amount of coloring matter they can be easily changed to suit the taste.

Look out for Fraud,

As scores of individuals are digging and sending to a distance all kinds of worthless counterfeit stuff, most of it no better than dirt from the streets, calling it all good Fire-proof Paint. Now, I will only say to the public, that if they get the Powder except from me or my Agents, that will make the genuine Artificial Slate, they infringe upon my patent, for which I shall hold them to a strict accountability; and if it does not make the Slate, of course it will rub off as soon as the action of the atmosphere destroys the oil, in which case they lose the money paid for the spurious article.

The genuine article can at all times be had at No. 3 BROAD STREET, N. Y., of the Patentee.

WM. BLAKE, Patentee Fire-proof Paint.

Ohio Fire-proof Mineral Paint.

For which a silver medal was awarded, at the recent Fair of the American Institute.

This extraordinary mineral substance is one of the most valuable discoveries of the age, combining some of the most desirable and truly excellent qualities, which distinguish it above every other substance of the paint or cement kind hitherto known.

Its efficacy in preserving wood from decay, iron from oxidation, and brick work and masonry from dampness, is peculiar and positive. Its incombustibility is also remarkable, forming a good protection to roofs and buildings of wood from burning cinders, sparks, and falling flakes of fire.

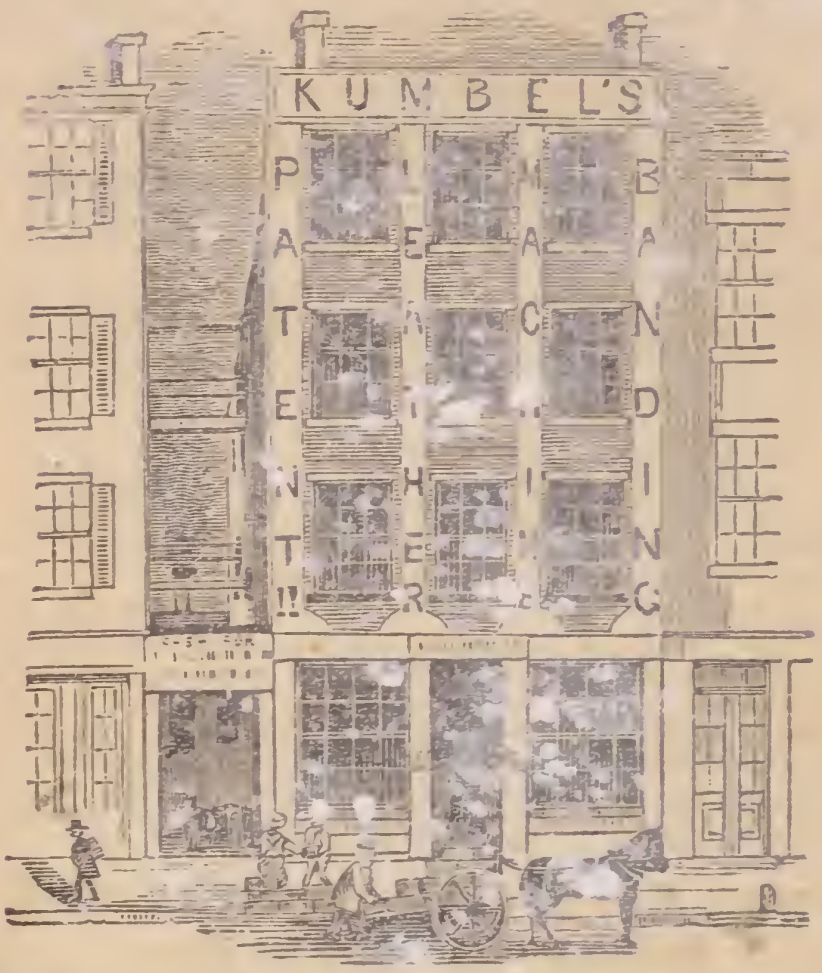

For wood or brick COTTAGES, VILLAS, &c., it cannot be too highly recommended. For MANUFACTORIES, CHURCHES, and PUBLIC BUILDINGS, nothing can exceed it; and for all RAILROAD purposes, for painting BRIDGES, CARS, DEPOTS, &c., it is invaluable. It is now being used at the West for STEAMBOATS, with great satisfaction, and will doubtless soon supersede white lead for that purpose. For COACH, CARRIAGE, CAB, CAR and CABINET MAKERS, it is said to be a perfect desideratum, forming a surface as hard as marble, and receiving a polish as beautiful as porcelain. For all descriptions of out-buildings, fences, and particularly ROOFS, its value can scarcely be calculated—changing, in a few months, from a paint to a slate or marble coating, resisting both fire and moisture. The natural colors of the paint are dark drab and chocolate, which, however, if desired, are easily changed to any shade, from a fawn color, to a stone, or dark slate color.

☞BEWARE OF FRAUDS!☜

The GENUINE FIRE-PROOF PAINT, direct from the mines, can always be obtained, without delay, warranted pure, of the subscriber, who has the highest testimonials of its superior valuable qualities. Also, specimens of the paint applied:—of ALL THE VARIOUS SHADES OF COLOR.

All orders for the Genuine Article, by the barrel or ton, will be supplied, at reduced prices, by

Only Patented Machine-stretched in the United States

Has again been awarded the highest premium, a Gold Medal (the only bands which have received this distinction) by the American Institute, at the Fair of Oct., 1849, after severe tests in competition; thus recognizing from a thorough practical and public trial, that rank and position which manufacturers have long since assigned it, as the Best Leather Banding manufactured in the United States

This Banding is made of the solid part only of the BEST OAK LEATHER, is thoroughly stretched, cemented, and pressed, will run straight, and has a perfect bearing upon the pullies.

STRENGTH AND DURABILITY

...manufacture ... in all the running qualities ... and made upon other principles or of other materials.

The belt made of leather is the only one that can be relied upon to perform well in all situations. It neither melts with friction, sticks to the pulleys, nor flies from the wheels, but is subject to sudden combustion and destruction, all which are marked characteristics of Belting made from Gutta Percha.

The PATENT MACHINE STITCHED LEATHER BANDING, as made by the Subscriber, will stand more heat, more cold, more friction, and is far more durable than those above referred to, and for all practical purposes; it can also be made water proof.

The best evidence of its quality is its adoption by nearly all extensive manufacturers and machinists throughout the city and country, the River and Sound steamers, and (with marked approbation) by the various lines of Ocean Steamers. Since its introduction by the Subscriber it has revolutionized machinery to the general exclusion of gearing; and the approval of practical mechanics is further emphatically expressed by the steady increase in the demand for it from year to year. Every Belt is warranted to possess all the qualities requisite for durability and good performance, or the money returned.

They can be furnished of any length, and width from 1 to 24 inches, either single, double, or round. Also, superior Lace Leather, with rivets, burrs, punches, awls, &c.

Cash Capital, $100,000,

With a large accumulation, which is constantly increasing by means of an increasing business, and all of which is securely invested in bonds, mortgages, and stocks.

The great principle of Life Insurance is, that men, by the payment of a small sum annually, may secure to their families a certain sum of money, to be paid at their death, and thereby accomplish an object they might not attain during a long life.

The application of Life Insurance is, Insuring one's Life for the benefit of his friends or his creditors, or for the sole use and benefit of his family.

Policies are granted by this Company only to sound and healthy persons, and the business of the Company is confined to healthy locations and to first class risks.

No California or other extra hazardous risks have been taken. Extremes of all kinds are carefully avoided, and every department of the business of the Company is carefully conducted.

A BIRD'S-EYE VIEW

OF THE

CITY OF NEW-YORK.

FOR THE USE OF

TRAVELLERS AND STRANGERS.

Illustrated with Views of several Religious and other Edifices.

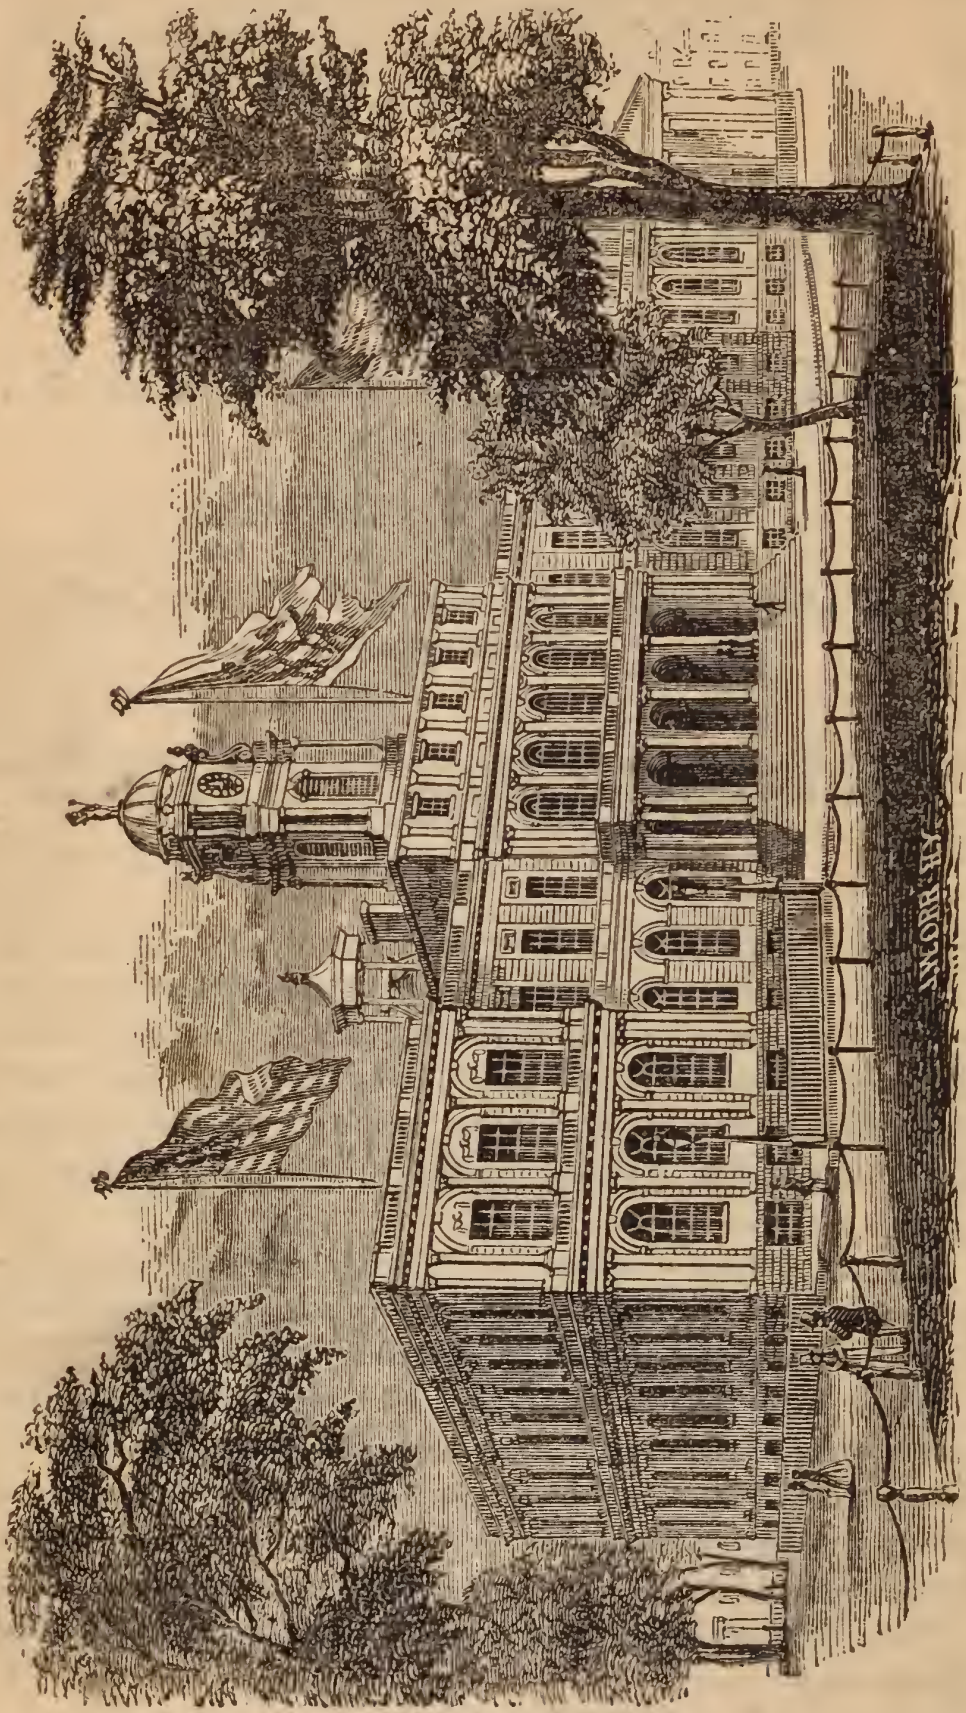

Entered, according to Act of Congress, in the year 1849, by H. Wilson, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New-York.

In the Great Metropolis for 1850 we gave views of the following public buildings, viz. :—the Free Academy, Astor Library, Society Library, Baptist Tabernacle, Church of the Puritans, South Dutch Church, Synagogue in Norfolk-street near Houston, University-place Presbyterian Church, St. George's Church, Odd Fellows' Hall, American Art-Union Galleries, National Academy of Design, and the new State Arsenal.

The great number of edifices which claim the attention of strangers in the city, and are a source of just pride to the citizens, will furnish us with materials to vary the illustrations for several years.

We have selected, in preference among the many, either those which, being of more recent erection, possess the merit of novelty in addition to their other excellencies, or those among the older erections which, by reason of their architectural beauty and the other associations connected therewith, are more deserving of especial notice.

These views are all engraved from original drawings, and expressly for this work.

A. WORRALL

The City Hall.

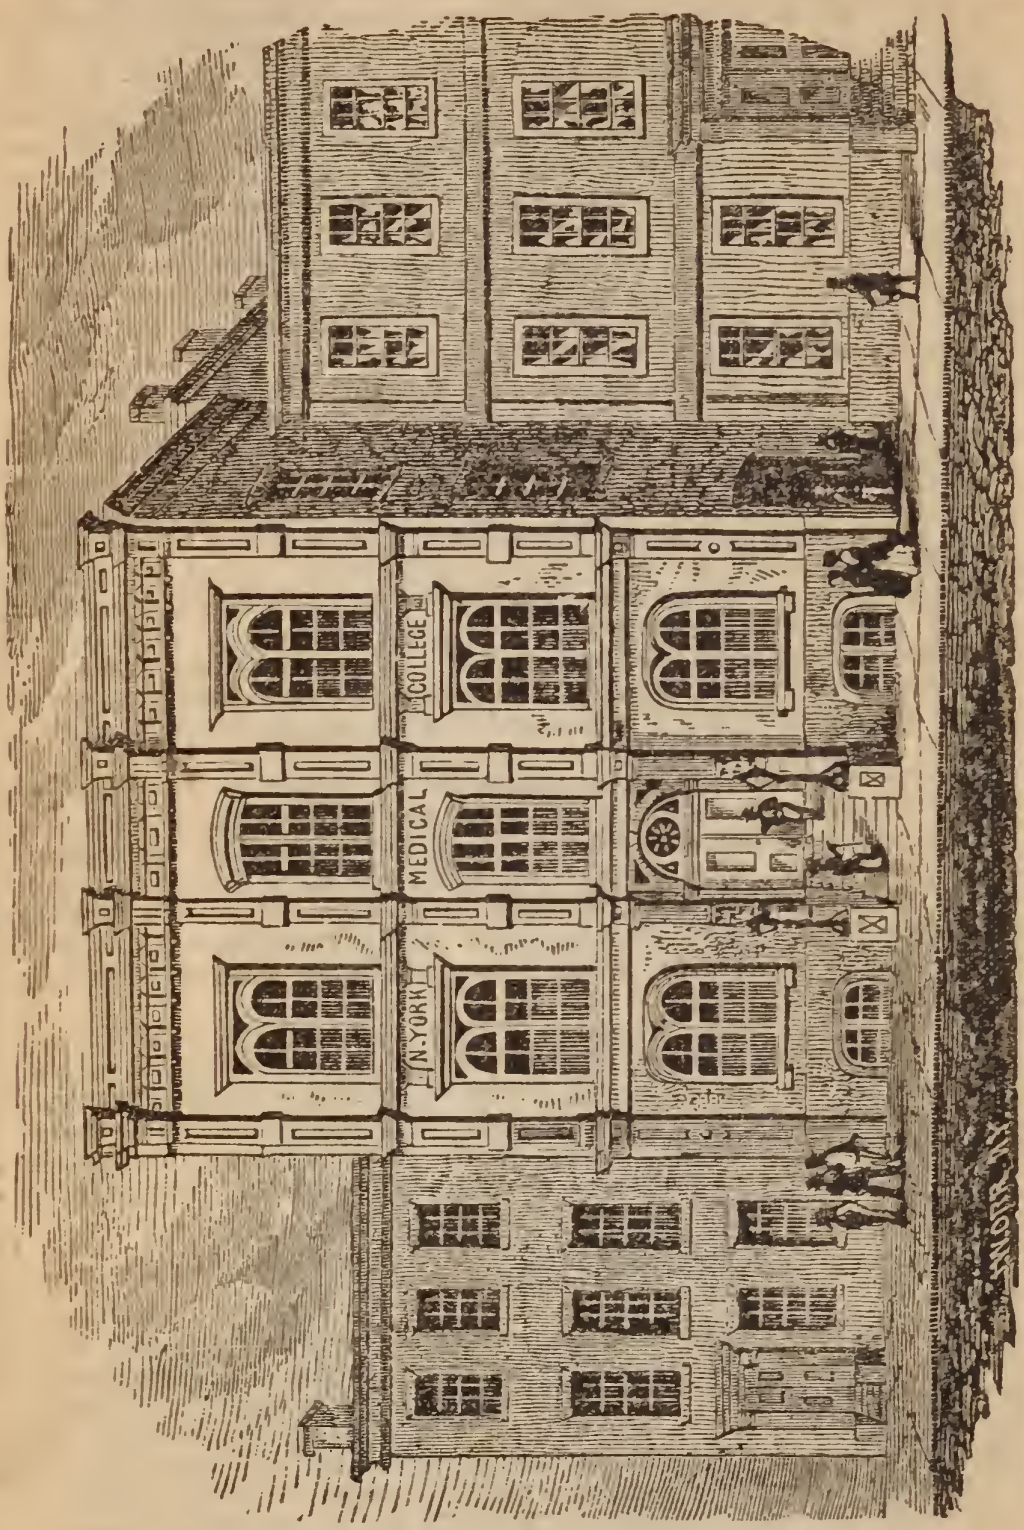

The City Hall, heretofore regarded the finest building in the city, and one of the finest in the United States, has a commanding situation in the middle of the Park. It has more ornament than either the Exchange or the Custom House, but less simple grandeur; though with its furniture, it is, perhaps, the most interesting building in the city. It is 216 feet long, and 105 wide; was commenced in 1803, and completed in 1812, and cost $538,734. The front and ends are constructed of white marble, and the rear of brown freestone. It is two stories high above the basement, with a third or attic story in the centre building; and there rises from the centre a cupola, containing a clock of fine workmanship, and on the top a colossal statue of Justice. In the upper part of this cupola is a room occupied by a watchman, whose business it is to give alarm in case of fire, as from this position he is able to overlook the whole city. Behind this, another less elevated cupola, with eight Ionic columns, contains the City Hall bell, the different number of strokes of which indicate the district in which a fire occurs. The front of the City Hall is ornamented with columns and pilasters of the Ionic, Corinthian, and Composite orders, rising above each other in regular gradation. The building is entered in front by a flight of twelve marble steps. In the centre is a double staircase, ascended by marble steps, at the top of which is a circular gallery, floored with marble, from which ten marble columns of the Corinthian order ascend to the ceiling. In the building there are twenty-eight offices and other public rooms, the most conspicuous of which are the Governor's room, and the chambers of the Common Council and Assistant Aldermen.

The Governor's Room is appropriated to the use of the Governor of the State when he visits the city, and has been used as a reception room for other distinguished men who have occasionally been here. It is 52 by 20 feet. The walls of the room are hung with a fine collection of portraits, including the Governors of the State, the Mayors of the City, since the revolution, some of the Dutch Governors, and the principal military and naval heroes of the late war, all of which are regarded as excellent likenesses

The Common Council Room is 42 by 30 feet, and the president occupies the identical chair occupied by General Washington, when he presided over the first American Congress, which assembled in New-York. The seats of the aldermen are ranged in a semicircular form, in the centre of which is a table for the clerk. The room contains several fine full-length portraits, painted by Trumbull. The room of the Assistant Aldermen is handsomely fitted up.

The Park.

The Park, called in early times the Commons, is a triangular area of about 10¾ acres, lying between Broadway, Chatham, and Chambers streets, is laid out with walks, and planted with trees, and surrounded by an iron fence, which cost over $15.000. It contains the City Hall, the new City Hall, or old Alms House, and the Rotunda. It has also, towards its southern part, a public fountain, within a basin about 100 feet in diameter, which has a variety of jets, which are occasionally changed. When the water is thrown in a single stream, it ascends to the height of about 70 feet, presenting a majestic and interesting appearance.

N.YORK

The New-York Medical College.

This Institution was chartered, by a unanimous vote of the Legislature of the State of New-York, on the 8th of April, 1850.

Its Board of Trustees consists of George Wood, Esq., President; Hon. Lewis H. Sandford, Vice-President; R. Ogden Doremus, M. D., Secretary; William Chauncey, Esq., Treasurer; (Hon. C. S. Woodhull, Mayor, and Frederick A. Tallmadge, Recorder, Trustees ex-officio:) Hon. D. P. Ingraham, Hon. Robert H. Morris, E. C. Benedict, A. G. Phelps, jun., Rev. J. S. C. Abbott, E. H. Kimball, P. C. Doremus, H. B. Loomis, N. T. Carryl, John H. Swift, J. H. Douglass, Samuel Davis, Rev. Geo. B. Cheever, D. D., Frederick H. Wolcott, Rev. John S Stone, D. D., Hon. Cheselden Ellis, H. E. Davies, Simeon Draper, John J. Cisco, Nathaniel Weed, E. Holbrook, Rev. Wm. A. Muhlenberg, Luther R. Marsh, Rev. John Dowling, Horace Green, Abraham L. Cox.

Its Faculty are, Horace Green, M. D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine; Abraham L. Cox, M. D., Professor of Surgery; John H. Whittaker, M. D., Professor of Anatomy and Physiology; Edwin Hamilton Davis, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica and Pharmacy; B. Fordyce Barker, M. D., Professor of Midwifery and the Diseases of Women and Children; R. Ogden Doremus, M. D., Professor of Chemistry.

Alexander B. Mott, M. D., Prosector to the Professor of Surgery, and E. M. Brundige, M. D., Demonstrator of Anatomy. Bernard Taggart, Janitor, who resides in the College building.

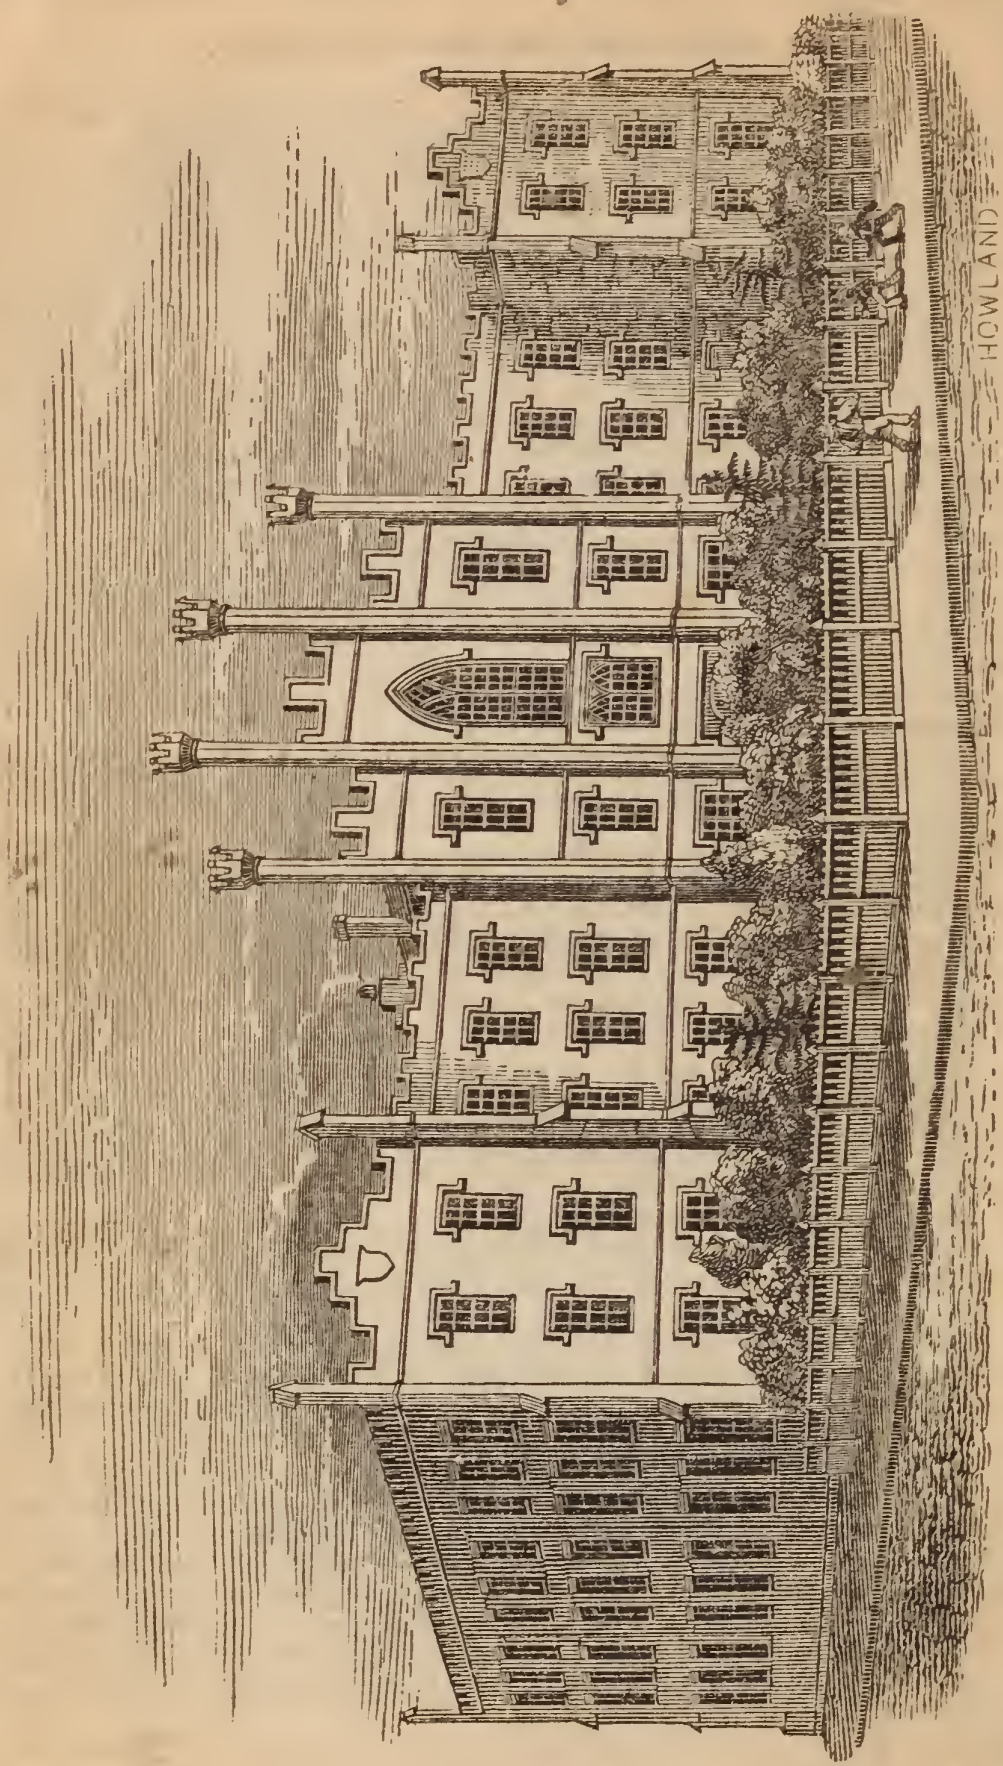

The College edifice, which occupies the site of the old circular Reservoir, is in East Thirteenth-street, between the Third and Fourth Avenues. It is founded upon a solid rock. Its height from the floor to the top of the sky-light is 86 feet. Its front is 50 feet, and its depth 80 feet.

It has been constructed expressly for the purpose of a medical college, and is thought to combine the advantages which are possessed by all the others in the country. Its halls, lecture rooms, anatomical theatre, rooms for practical anatomy, museum, Trustees' and Professors' rooms, are all spacious and lofty, well lighted, ventilated, and warmed. They are arranged with admirable regard both to convenience and effect.

The first stone was laid on the last day of July, and it was completed on the last day of September. It is built of the very best materials, and is a substantial and elegant structure, and a decided ornament to the city.

The architects are, Field and Correja; the masons, A. and J. White; the carpenter, Zuille J. Eggleston. The lectures of this institution commence on the first Monday in November. Its cliniques and anatomical rooms were opened on the first day of October.

The great enterprise and dispatch which have characterized all the stages of progress in this great undertaking, and the energy and skill with which it has been managed from its inception, furnish a guaranty of its success, and a promise of the superior tone which it is destined to give to the cause of medical education in this great metropolis. Its professors are all gentlemen of high professional standing, and are distinguished both as writers and teachers, and more particularly as zealous cultivators of their several branches of professional science and art.

HOWLAND

New-York Institution for the Blind.

The New-York Institution for the Blind has been in existence about twenty years. Its object is the amelioration of the condition of the blind by education, and instruction in some handicraft employment, whereby they may be enabled to earn their own support, either wholly or in part. It is not, as is sometimes supposed, an infirmary for the treatment of diseases of the eyes. Pupils are received between the ages of eight and twenty-five years. The charge to those who are able to pay, is one hundred and thirty dollars a year for board and tuition, exclusive of clothing. A large proportion of the pupils are beneficiaries of the State. In order to obtain an appointment as a State beneficiary, a certificate, signed by the overseers of the poor of the town in which the candidate resides, setting forth the fact of permanent blindness, good moral character, and the inability of parents or guardians to pay for their support in the institution, must be forwarded to the Secretary of State, who possesses the appointing power. The term of pupilage allowed by the State is five years, with an extension in particular cases to seven. The course of instruction embraces all the branches of a thorough English education, including a scientific knowledge of music, both vocal and instrumental. This latter branch affords to many the means of a comfortable support. There are at present 110 pupils in the institution.

Connected with the institution, and under the same management, is an establishment for the employment of the adult blind in such trades as they are able to practice. It is fitted up both as a workshop and boarding house, but it is optional with the hands to board in the establishment or with their friends. The inmates are paid by the piece, according to the quality of the work.

The Institution is under the management of twenty directors. Its officers are, Anson G. Phelps, Esq., President; Isaac Wood, M. D., Vice-President; George F. Allen, Esq., Secretary; Silas Brown, Esq., Treasurer; Principal of the Institution, James F. Chamberlain.

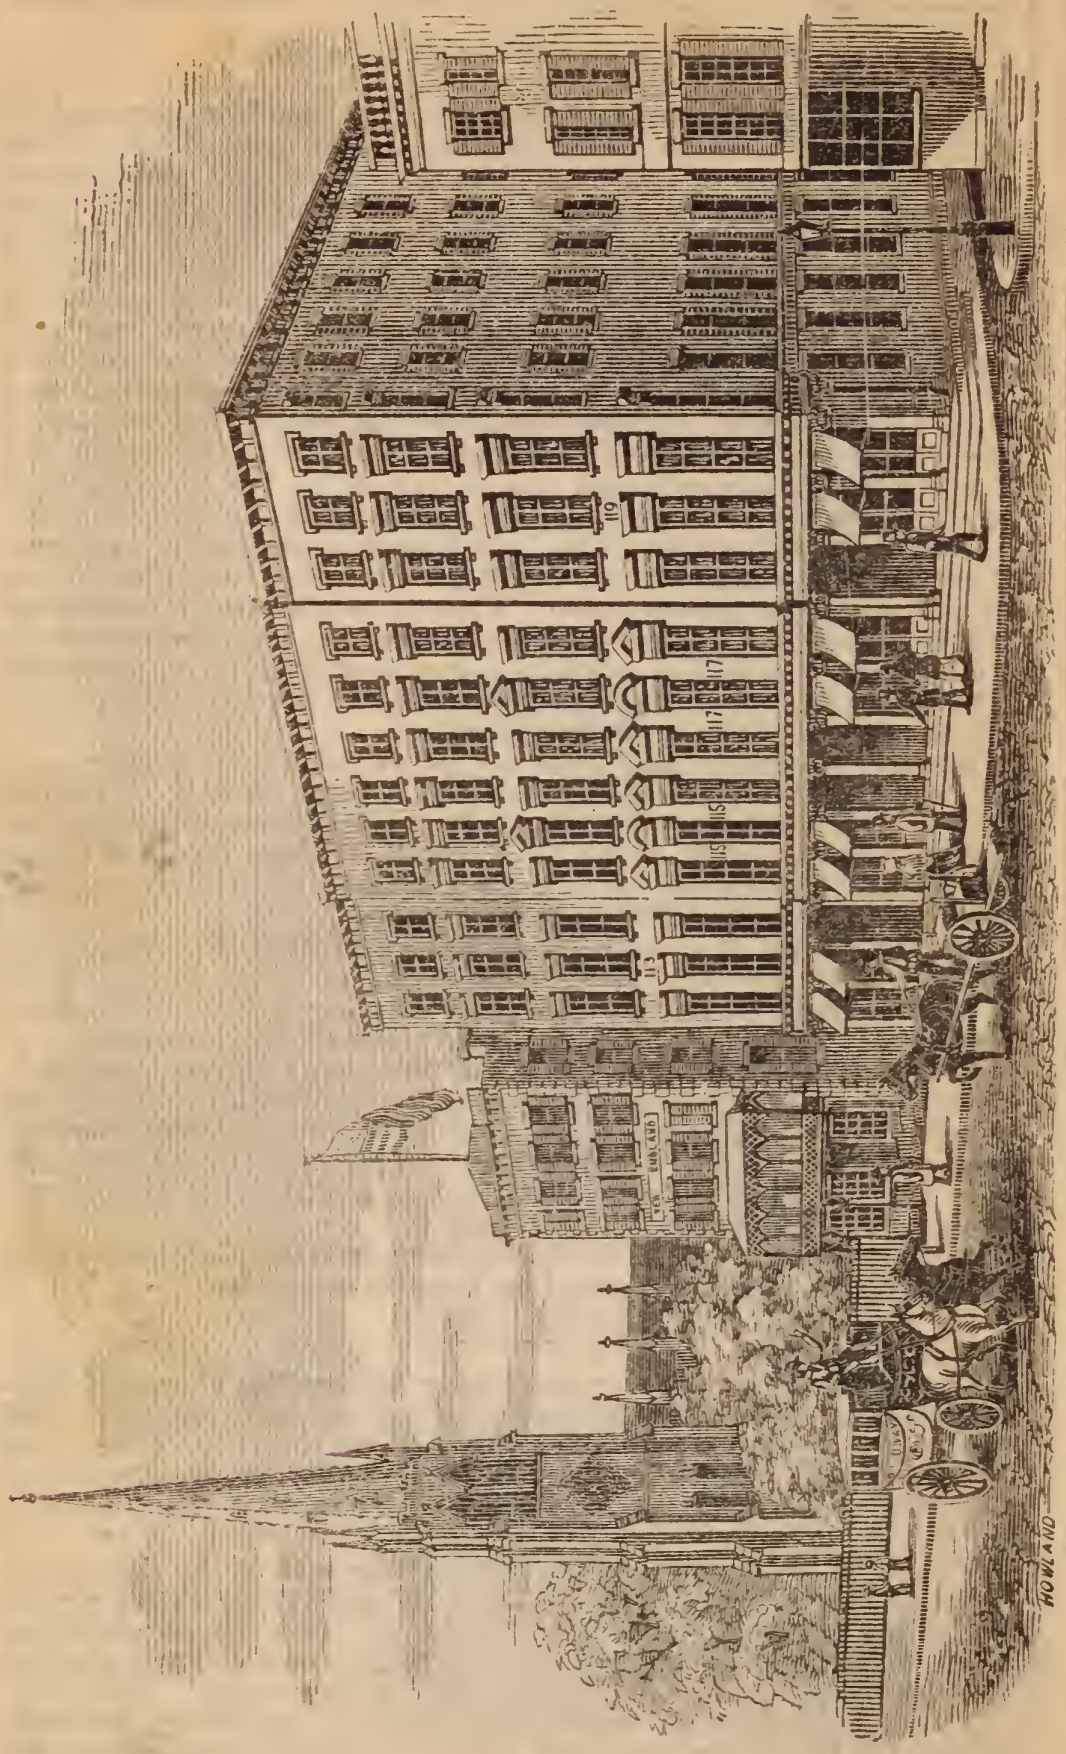

The grounds occupied by the institution comprise an entire block, between Eighth and Ninth Avenues, and Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Streets. The aggregate cost of the buildings is about one hundred thousand dollars; a large share of which was raised by voluntary contribution among the citizens of New-York; the balance was appropriated by the State.

Lines of omnibuses pass the institution on both the Eighth and Ninth Avenues. Visitors are received on Tuesday afternoons.

On the following page we present our readers with a view on Broadway, looking down from the corner of Cedar-street, embracing the new stores recently erected on the site of the old City Hotel, with Trinity Church in the distance; the whole forming one of the most beautiful views which grace that far renowned and richly adorned favorite promenade.

The stores which form the imposing edifice seen on the right of the view are four in number (Nos. 113, 115, 117, and 119), and were erected during the past year by William B. Astor. They cover one entire block of ground, bounded by Cedar and Thames streets, and running through from Broadway to Trinity-place, a distance of feet.

They are occupied as warehouses—No. 113, by Messrs. Baldwin, Dibble and Work, importers and jobbers of foreign and domestic dry Trinity Church.

Brief History of the Church.—The members of the Protestant Episcopal Church (then known as the Church of England in America), held their first religious services in this city in a small chapel attached to a fort which stood near the present Battery. The congregation rapidly increasing, Trinity Church was founded to meet the emergency in 1696, during the reign of William and Mary, and service was first performed in it on the 6th of February, 1697. It was then a small square edifice, but was enlarged in 1735, and again in 1737. On the 21st of September, 1776, by the memorable fire which laid waste so great a portion of the city, this edifice was entirely consumed. It lay in ruins during the remainder of the Revolutionary war, at the expiration of which it was rebuilt, and consecrated by Bishop Provoost in 1790. In 1839, an examination having been made of the building, it was deemed advisable to pull it down, and erect another in its place. The magnificent edifice, located in Broadway, opposite Wall-street, (erected under the superintendence of Mr. Richard Upjohn, architect), and of which a view is given, is the result—a result truly creditable to the age and nation, and one which will prove a lasting monument of the munificent character of the venerable corporation of the parish.

Description of the Church.—The style of architecture is the perpendicular Gothic, the peculiar characteristic of which is, that the mullions of the windows and the ornamented pannelings run in perpendicular lines. It is the first church erected in this country having the clerestory, and is built entirely of sandstone, even to the apex of the spire. The aisle walls are 40 feet in height, and are each supported by eight substantial buttresses, between which are pointed windows, 24 feet high, beautifully ornamented by tracery cut in stone. A moulded battlement surmounts these walls, extending their whole length.

The clerestory is supported by massive piers, rising from the interior of the church, and a succession of arches springing from them. It is also surmounted by a battlement, which runs over the wall of the western end, and is crowned at the apex by a cross. Each buttress has upon it a pinnacle crocketed at the angles and terminating in a finial. In the western wall of the church is a magnificent window, termed the altar window, 60 feet high, and 25 feet wide. Its breadth is distributed into seven bays, and its length into two sections by a transom mullion in the centre, and is, as are all the other windows, glazed with stained glass.

But that which most strikes the eye with admiration, is the magnificence of the tower and spire. Covered as they are with elaborate work, cut in solid stone, and running up to the height of 283 feet, their imposing grandeur is beyond description. The base of the tower is 30 feet square, and 6 feet 9 inches through, and is supported by double buttresses 4 feet wide, projecting 7 feet 6 inches. The entrance through the tower is 20 feet wide, and 30 feet high, and is surmounted by a bishop's mitre. The whole height of the tower is 127 feet. The spire is in fine proportion, and rises to the top of the cross which crowns it, to the height of 156 feet, thus making the aggregate height 283 feet. It is octagonal, and each angle is decorated by a succession of crockets. The steeple contains a clock and a chime of bells.

The interior of Trinity is equally as beautiful as the exterior. The nave is 137 feet long, 36 feet wide, and 67 feet 6 inches high, and receives its support from a double colonnade, each of 7 English piers. The vaulting over it consists of graceful groining, and is decorated by bosses of clustered foliage.

The pews are of oak, and capable of seating with ease 800 persons. There are no galleries in the church.

The vestry, at the west end of the church, forms a fine apartment, 72 feet in length, with a groined ceiling. In it are placed all the monumental tablets formerly in the other building. Among them is the monument erected to the memory of the late Bishop John H. Hobart, executed by Ball Hughes, at a cost of $3,000.

The Astor-Place Opera House

Is located on Astor-place, between Broadway and the Bowery; was erected in 1846. Its exterior possesses very little to arrest the attention of the passer-by. The locality has, however, acquired a melancholy interest from having been the scene of the Astor-place riots, which resulted in the death of a number of individuals. These riots occurred on the nights of the 8th and 10th of May, 1849. Mr. Macready, an English actor of some eminence in his profession, had recently commenced playing an engagement at this house. Owing to some causes, many persons had acquired a feeling of hostility towards this gentleman, and expressed their displeasure on the evening of the 8th by hisses, groans, and hurling pennies, apples, and other and more dangerous missiles upon the stage. The tumult was appeased by the announcement that Mr. Macready had left the theatre.

On the evening of the 10th, he, at the request of several citizens, again attempted to perform. Meanwhile, the disapprobation exhibited on the night of his previous performance had been industriously fanned by the newspapers, and by cards, circulars, placards, and irritating rumors, set afloat by those interested either in sustaining Mr. Macready, or in his expulsion from the stage, until the idea was very generally entertained that an outbreak of the most serious character was about to occur.

Every preparation was made, both on the part of the lessees of the house, and by the public authorities, in anticipation of the expected riot. These preparations and rumors naturally drew large crowds to the neighborhood. At half-past seven o'clock the square and street from Broadway to the Bowery was filled. Shortly after the commencement of the performance, a repetition of the former scene commenced within the house, with the exception that in this instance the noises consisted of mingled tokens of approbation and disapprobation. Those who expressed their disapprobation were, however, speedily expelled from the house by the police. As these ejectments progressed, an attack was made upon the house; paving-stones were hurled at the windows, and an attempt was made to force an entrance. One of the doors was partly beaten down when the policemen sallied from it and arrested a number of the rioters, and confined them in one of the apartments in the building. The military were also assailed by showers of stones. After the play was over, the audience passed from the house, through the crowd, without molestation. Mr Macready escaped from the house in the disguise of a policeman and fled from the city.

The military then took possession of the side-walk in front of the building, and many of them were injured by the falling upon them of the stones thrown at the house. The sheriff and recorder, who were upon the ground, attempted to expostulate with the rioters, but were received with hootings and blows, and an order was given to the troops to fire into the air. This only served to exasperate the rioters, and the order was finally given to fire into the crowd; several vollies were fired in succession. Seventeen persons were killed on the spot, and several others died, at later periods, of the wounds received. Some of those killed were persons passing through the streets in the neighborhood, on their way to their homes, and many of the killed and wounded were mere lookers-on. None of the military were seriously injured.

It is to be hoped many years will transpire ere New-York is again the theatre of such a scene of carnage.

We turn with pleasure from this scene to the view of the building now occupied by the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Mediator, which is seen on the right. The following is a sketch of the history of this church.

Church of the Mediator.

This edifice stood formerly in Murray-street, opposite Columbia College, and was the property of the Third Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church. This congregation was organized as a church in 1810, under the charge of the Rev. John M. Mason, and in 1812 this edifice was erected. Here Dr. Mason continued to officiate, with a large and increasing congregation around him, until September, 1821, when he was elected professor of theology in the college of Carlisle, Pennsylvania. His health having become somewhat impaired by the continued exercise of the ministry, he was induced to accept the appointment; but, after two years, his health utterly failed, and he returned to New-York, where he died in 1829. He was succeeded by the Rev. Wm. D. Snodgrass, who was installed Sept. 22, 1823, and remained pastor until Sept. 22, 1832, when he resigned his charge. He was succeeded by the Rev. Thomas McAuley (formerly pastor of the Rutgers-street church), who was installed in January, 1833, who resigned in November, 1845.

A large debt having been contracted in the erection of the building, and the property in Murray-street having become very valuable, it was judged best by the congregation to remove the house to another location.

The very desirable site which it now occupies (on Eighth-street, fronting Lafayette-place) having been procured, the edifice was taken down and removed, stone by stone, to this spot. This work was completed in 1842.

On the 20th September, 1846, the building ceased to be occupied as a Presbyterian church, and after having been occupied by several other congregations, was finally leased to the congregation of the Church of the Mediator.

This church was organized in May, 1849, under the rectorship of the Rev. Francis L. Hawks, and met until the autumn of that year (when it was removed to this building), in the Chapel of the University.

HOWLANDS SO

University of the City of New-York.

The act, incorporating the subscribers and shareholders of this Institution was passed April 18, 1831. Its government is in the hands of a Council, composed of thirty-two shareholders and the Mayor and four members of the Common Council of the City of New-York, for the time being. Its buildings are located on the east side of Washington Square, and extend from Waverley to Washington Place. The original plan contemplates a Faculty of Law, which has not yet, however, gone into operation. There is, besides, a Grammar School connected with the University, occupying apartments in the same buildings. The corps of Professors and Instructors in the several departments numbers 26. In the Academic department they are as follows: E. A. Johnson, A. M., Prof. of Latin; C. S. Henry, D. D., Prof. of Phil., Hist., and the Belles-Lettres; John W. Draper, M.D., Prof. of Chem. and Nat. Hist.; Elias Loomis, A.M. Prof. of Math, Nat. Phil., and Ast.; P. M. W. Redfield, A.M., Ass. Prof. of Math.; George C. Anthon, A. M., Prof. of Greek; S. F. B. Morse, LL.D., Prof. of the Lit. of the Arts of Design; M. Giraud, Prof. of French; Felix Foresti, Prof. of Italian; T. F. Cummings, Prof. of Painting and Drawing; G. J. Adler, A. M., Prof. of German; F. J. Vingut, Prof. of Spanish.

In the Medical department, the Faculty consists of the following Professorships:—Granville Sharp Pattison, M. D., Prof. of Anatomy; Martyn Paine, M D., Prof. of the Institutes of Medicine and Materia Medica; Gunning S. Bedford, M.D., Prof. of Midwifery; J. W. Draper, M. D., Prof. of Chemistry; Samuel D. Gross, M. D., Prof of Surgery; Elisha Bartlett, M. D., Prof. of the Theory and Practice of Medicine.

In the Grammar School, of which Professor Johnson is Rector, Geo. S. Parker, A. M., is Head Master, and Moses M. Hobby, Associate.

The class of 1833, which was the first to receive the diplomas of the University, numbered three. For the last ten years the average number of students in attendance upon the academic course has been 137. The year is divided into three terms—the principal vacation being the months of July and August. Instruction commences on the third Wednesday of September. Candidates are examined on the preceding Tuesday, and at the close of the academic year in June. The yearly charge, for tuition, &c., is $90. payable semi-annually in advance. The Medical Department was organized in 1841, and, for the whole period of its existence, the average number of its students has been 360; for the last five years, 411. The lectures in this department commence the last Monday of October, and continue till the first of March. The fees for a full course of lectures amount to $105. The matriculation fee is $5, the diploma fee, $30. The Grammar School has been in operation for thirteen years, during which time the average number of pupils has been between two and three hundred. Its year commences on the first Monday of September. The terms are fifteen dollars per quarter, payable at the middle of the quarter.

The students of the University have formed themselves into two societies:—the EUCLEIAN, founded A. D., 1833, having 44 members, and 1,400 volumes in their library; and the PHILOMATHEAN, founded A. D., 1832, having 35 members, and 1,000 volumes in their library. Their meetings are held every Friday evening during term time.

The church, seen on the right of the view on the preceding page, is known as the Dutch Reformed Church on Washington-square. This church was organized in April, 1837. Prior to the completion of this building, in 1840, services were held in the chapel of the University. Dr. Mancius S. Hutton is its pastor.

The Norfolk-street Baptist Church,

Under the pastoral charge of the Rev. T. Armitage, A. M., was constituted in 1840, under the ministry of the late Rev. George Benedict. It was originally a part of the Stanton-street Baptist Church; under the labors of the latter gentleman, and separated from that prosperous congregation, only on the conviction that a new interest was really needed in the eastern part of the city. As to this necessity, they were not disappointed, for their meeting-house, which then stood at the corner of Broome and Norfolk-streets, was immediately filled to overflowing with a highly respectable and attentive audience. There they continued to worship until, in 1849, that edifice was destroyed by fire, and the congregation scattered. The health of Mr. Benedict had been impaired for two years previous to this, and at this time he resigned his pastoral charge, hoping that entire cessation from labor might effect restoration to health. In this, however, he and his people were to be misled; for, in the following fall, he went to his reward.

St. Matthew's Church.—(See next page.)

In selecting a successor, Mr. Benedict and the church were united on the Rev. T. Armitage, of Albany, N. Y. A call was promptly tendered, and as promptly accepted, and that gentleman entered his interesting field immediately.

The old edifice was replaced by the elegant and convenient church represented in the above engraving, and is filled from Sabbath to Sabbath, sometimes to overflowing, with an interesting congregation. The church proper numbers nearly 700 members, and the congregation is proportionately large. We know of no Baptist church in this city which is in a more prosperous state, and which gives greater promise for the future. In closing we would say, that the Sixth-street Baptist Church is a branch from this.

St. Matthew's Church (Lutheran).

WALKER-ST., NEAR BROADWAY.

There were a few Lutherans among the first emigrants from Holland, driven thence by the persecutions of the Arminians and those holding kindred tenets, which had been denounced by the Synod of Dort in 1618–19.

They were relieved from persecution here, but were not permitted to worship in public until after the province became a British colony. At that era, they had become so numerous that they sent to Germany for a pastor, and one arrived here in 1669. About the year 1671 they erected a log church at the southwest corner of Broadway and Rector-street, which was known as Trinity Church. The ground on which it stood was granted to them by the government in 1674.. Some time between 1725 and 1740 this building was taken down, and a substantial stone edifice erected in its stead: this building was burnt during the revolution, and, in 1805, the site was sold to the Episcopalians.

In 1750, a portion of the congregation of Trinity Church withdrew therefrom, and erected a substantial stone church at the corner of Frankfort and William streets, which was known as Christ, or the Swamp Church. The two churches again united, in January, 1784, and became amalgamated into a single congregation, worshiping at Christ Church.

Prior to the war of 1812, many of the congregation of the united churches, who desired to have English preaching (the service having been heretofore conducted in German and English, and latterly in German and Low Dutch alternately), established a separate church, called Zion Church, which was burnt in 1814.

In 1821 a project was set on foot to build a new English Lutheran church, and the ground in Walker-street, near Broadway, was purchased, and the present edifice erected thereon in 1822, in which divine service was first performed on the 22d December of that year, by the Rev. Mr. Schaeffer.

The services are now performed in German. The church is under the pastoral charge of the Rev. C. F. E. Stohlman, and is attended by a numerous congregation.

Bedford-Street Methodist Episcopal Church.

The origin and history of this church are as follows: In the year 1808, a small class was formed in what was then called "Greenwich Village." This class held its first meetings in a private house near the place where the Bedford-street M. E. Church now stands. Subsequently a shop was fitted up for a preaching place, and was taken into the list of appointments by the Methodist ministers stationed in the city. In the year 1810 a lot was purchased, on which a small wooden church was erected. At that time there were but few buildings in this section of the city, and the church stood nearly alone, surrounded by open fields, and was known for several years by the name of "Greenwich Village Church." Subsequently it was named after the street on which it fronted, and since that has been known as "The Bedford-street Church." In the year 1830, that church was considerably enlarged, by adding to both its length and width, in which enlarged state it served the society until the year 1840, when it was torn down, and the present commodious building was erected in its place.

This church is located on the corner of Bedford and Morton streets, and is a substantial brick edifice, of 67 feet in width by 84 in length. The entrance to the present building is from Morton-street, whereas the entrance to the old church was from Bedford-street. The basement story is entirely above ground, and is divided into a large lecture-room and ten class-rooms. From the lower vestibule there are four flights of stairs, of easy ascent, leading to the audience room, and from the upper vestibule two leading to the gallery. The interior of the church is plain and neat, with free seats, and capable of seating 1,500 persons.

The congregation worshiping in this church is the largest Methodist congregation in the city. It is often difficult to find seats for all who go there, and frequently many leave for want of room.

The Sabbath School also is large, numbering about 600 scholars, with a suitable number of officers and teachers.

Previous to the year 1837, all the methodist churches in this city were connected together in two general charges, called circuits, and the ministers changed regularly every Sabbath. At that time these churches became separate charges. The following ministers have been successively stationed to the Bedford-street Church since that time, viz —Abram S. Francis, Phineas Rice, Benjamin Griffen, Laban C. Cheny, John Seys, Oliver V. Ammerman, and Seymour Van Deusen, who is the present pastor of the church.

The Presbyterian Church in Rutgers-Street.

The Presbyterians in the city of New-York, after many difficulties, appear to have been first regularly organized, as a church, early in the eighteenth century. Their first pastor settled in 1716, preached in the old City Hall, in Wall-street, until 1719, when the First Church in Wall-street was erected. In 1765 the Brick Church in Beekman-street was erected. The ground on which the Rutgers-street Church and the adjoining parsonage now stand, was the gift of the late Col. Henry Rutgers, one of its first ruling elders, a revolutionary patriot. and the proprietor of the land now comprised within the seventh ward of the city of New-York.

The first church erected on this site was built of wood. The corner stone thereof was laid June 27th, 1797, and the house was first opened for public worship May 13th, 1798, with a sermon by the venerable Dr. Rodgers.

At that period the three churches—in Wall-street, Beekman-street, and Rutgers-street—were united. There was one board of trustees and one bench of elders over the whole; so that, though worshiping in three houses, they were, properly speaking, but one church, under the joint pastoral care of Drs. John Rodgers, John McKnight, and Samuel Miller, all of whom are deceased, the last having departed this life within the past year.

Dr. Philip Milledoler was elected Collegiate Pastor on the 5th of August, 1805, with a view to his taking the church in Rutgers-street under his more particular care, and of being considered, if a separation of the churches should take place, as its sole pastor.

On the 26th of April, 1809, the three "United Presbyterian Churches in the City of New-York" were separated by act of the Presbytery of New-York and New Jersey, and—the other ministers having been assigned to the Brick and Wall-street churches—the arrangement which had been stipulated in Dr. Milledoler's call took place

Dr. Milledoler resigned in April, 1813, and the church in Rutgers-street was without a pastor until October 17th, 1815, when Mr. (now Dr.) Alexander McClelland was ordained and installed as the pastor of this church. Having resigned, toward the close of the year 1821, he was succeeded, August 1st, 1822, by Dr. Thomas McAuley, who continued till the fall of 1829. And, on the 12th day of November, 1830, the present pastor, Mr. (now Dr.) John M. Krebs, was ordained and installed as his successor.

When Dr. Milledoler assumed this charge in 1805, he found in immediate connection with it 57 communicants. Under his ministry and his successors', there were added, on profession, 1471; and, on certificate, 762. It is an affecting thought, that, of the whole number, 2290, about 1800 have died or removed; but the greater part of these have "fallen asleep." Of the remainder, 28 have been ordained to the ministry of the Gospel; and of the rest, no small number were dismissed to become members and officers of new churches in the vicinity.

The former edifice on this site was taken down, in June, 1841. The corner stone of the present edifice was laid July 21st, 1841; and the new church was dedicated April 21st, 1842.

The expense of erecting this structure, together with the parsonage house, and the organ, one of the finest in the country, was about $60.000, the whole of which has been paid by the congregation, while, at the same time, largely contributing to the various objects of appropriate Christian benevolence.—About 300 families regularly attend.

The church has sittings for 1300 persons, of which one-tenth are free; and of the pews that are necessarily rented for the support of the Gospel, the prices are so adjusted, that persons of the most moderate means may occupy them. without being indebted to charity for the opportunity of worshiping God. "The rich and the poor meet together," as it should be, in the sanctuary. The lecture room, which is in the basement, is conveniently fitted up for services held during the week, and will accommodate comfortably between 300 and 400 persons.

The Church of the Ascension—(Prot. Ep.)

Is situated on the corner of Fifth Avenue and Tenth-street. It is built of brown freestone, in the early English style, and consists of a nave, two aisles, chancel, and tower. The nave. including the chancel, is 97 feet long; the width of the church, including the nave and aisles, is 70 feet. The tower is 23 feet square on the outside. The main vestibule, 16 feet 6 inches square, is in the tower. There is a side vestibule at the end of each aisle.

Viewing the church externally, the main feature is the tower, which stands in the centre of the building, partly engaged in the front walls. It is in three stories, with buttresses at the angles, and finishes at the top with battlements and pinnacles. The belfry windows are triplets. On the sides of the church, both on the aisles and clerestory, are buttresses which finish with gables above the cornices. The design of the exterior is very simple, and the effect is quaint and picturesque. This effect is heightened by a plentiful covering of ivy. The church possesses also a certain dignity unequalled by many buildings of more elaborate design. Upon the interior, however, the architect, Mr. R. Upjohn, has expended the most labor, and both by the general arrangement and by the perfect finish in details, produced an undeniably fine effect. The nave is separated from the aisles by ranges of piers and arches which support the clerestory walls and divide the church into seven bays, one of which forms the chancel. The mouldings of the arches and the caps of the piers are bold and effective. The roof of the nave is open, the timbers being arched and supported by shafts which rest on corbel-heads, designed by the celebrated Thom, and executed with much spirit and boldness. The roofs of the aisles are also open and arched, resting on corbels The ceilings are all nearly flat, and panneled by moulded ribs. In each aisle is a gallery, supported by richly moulded arched braces, resting on corbels against the walls and on the piers of the nave. There is also a gallery at the east end of the nave; in this latter stands the organ, under an arch in the rear wall of the tower. The organ case is of black walnut, of a simple but rich design, and in its position very effective, relieved as it is by the whole depth of the tower.

The furniture of the church—pews, pulpit, reading-desk, communion-table, &c.—are all of bold designs, executed in black walnut.

The windows of the aisles and clerestory are filled with quarries of plain stained glass, of a peculiarly mellow golden tint. Hence the admirable tone of light pervading the building, which constitutes one of its best features. Unfortunately, the triplet window of the chancel is blocked up by the rectory, which is built against the rear of the church, and corresponds with it in design and style.

In fine, though many churches in the city boast more grandeur or beauty, none seem to be more convenient than the Church of the Ascension—none whose interior light better tempers solemnity with cheerfulness, and none where simplicity and richness of arrangement and detail are more purely joined.

The grounds of this church have the advantage of opening on three streets—the church fronting on Fifth Avenue, the rectory on Tenth-street, and the Sunday School building on West Eleventh-street.

The Post-Office,

In Nassau-street, corner of Liberty and Cedar-streets, occupies the building formerly known as the Middle Dutch Church, which was rented to the General Government for the use of the Post-Office, in 1844. The alterations necessary to adapt it to its new uses were made under the superintendence of John Lorimer Graham, Esq., then postmaster.

A more judicious arrangement of the interior, for post-office purposes, could not be devised. The site is the most eligible in the city, being in the centre of the business portion thereof; and the skill displayed in fitting up the exterior for the receipt of the mails, the delivery of letters, and the convenience of those having business to transact at the post-office, is evidently the result of a thorough intimacy with the public wants, and reflects great credit on those having these alterations in charge.

On Sabbath evening, 11th August, 1844, the closing exercises were held in the church, in view of resigning it to other uses. The alterations were immediately commenced, and the post-office was removed hither, from the Rotunda in the Park, on the 1st of February, 1845.

Post-Office.

This venerable edifice has stood for over a century and a quarter. During the revolutionary war, in 1776, when the British took possession of the city, several of the churches were occupied and greatly injured by the British soldiery; but the Middle Dutch Church suffered the most. Being directly adjacent to the famous sugar-house, the scene of atrocious and multiplied cruelties inflicted upon American citizens, it was at once used by the British soldiery for their quarters, for a hospital, and then for a riding-school in which British horsemanship was displayed. The whole of the interior was destroyed and rendered desolate. It was not till 1790 that the church was repaired, and again opened for divine worship.

The view which we give above represents the front of the church, which is the rear of the post-office.

For rates of postage, time of closing the mails, &c., see Index.

St. Peter's Church (Roman Catholic).

This imposing edifice is situated on the southeast corner of Barclay-street and St. Peter's place. It is a massive and substantial granite structure. The portico on Barclay-street is supported by six immense granite columns in the Ionic order, and, in a niche in the pediment, there is a fine statue of St. Peter. The interior of the church is remarkable for its simplicity and elegance. The sanctuary, from its elevated position, immediately strikes the eye of the beholder; and the altar, which is remarkably chaste and elegant, is constructed wholly of Italian marble. This edifice—erected in 1838, at a cost of $118,000, stands upon the site of the oldest Catholic church in the City or State of New-York. The old church was erected about the year 1786, but, being inadequate to accommodate the increasing congregation, was removed and replaced by the present noble edifice.

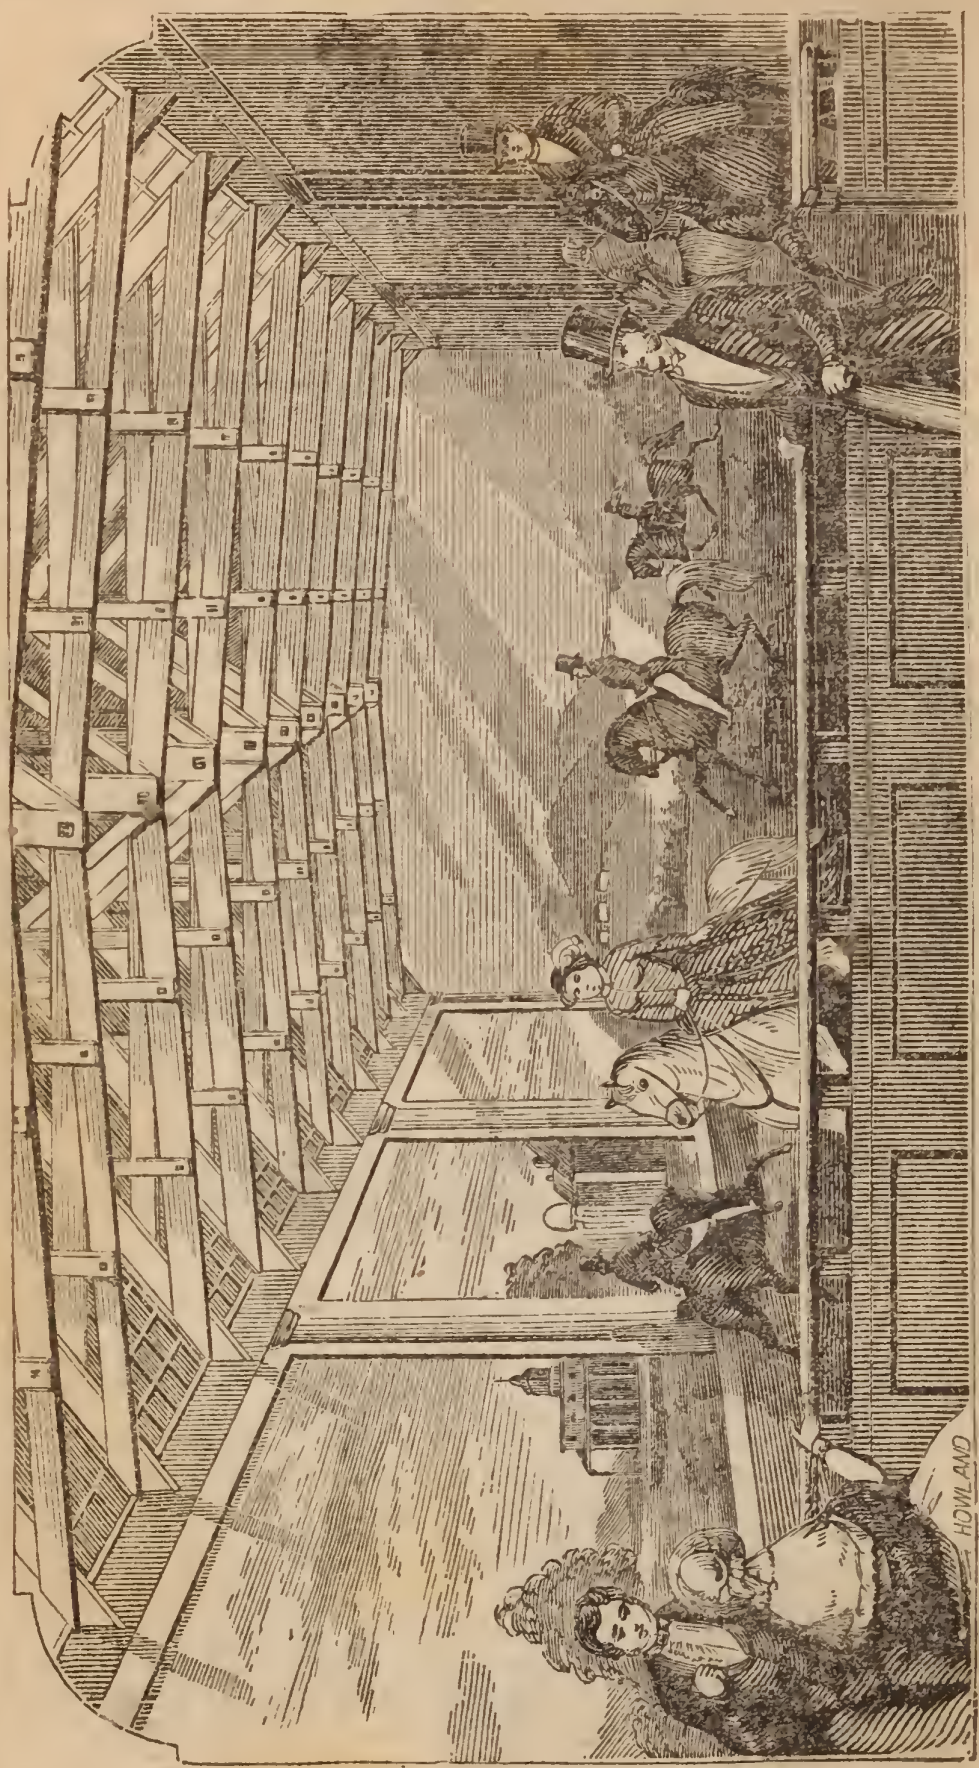

CELEBRATED ESTABLISHMENTS.

D. & J. Devlin's Clothing Warehouse.

There is no establishment in our city attracting more attention at present than this great Clothing House. We cannot notice it better than by giving an extract from an article in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine, for January, on the Clothing Trade:—

"The number of hands employed, or families supported in the manufacture of clothing in New-York, we have no reliable data to show; but we will merely take a glance at one of the largest and most enterprising clothing establishments in our city, namely, the house of D. & J. DEVLIN, in John-street, as proof in part of the truth of our position.

"The Messrs. Devlin do both a very large wholesale, and a very extensive and fashionable retail, trade. Their establishment, at the corner of John and Nassau streets, occupies two houses; one entire floor is devoted to the city and retail business; another to the cloth and custom department; another to the wholesale department; another, containing several well lighted rooms, to the cutting department; and the large basement is stored with their immense stock of heavy woollens and trimmings. The economy of such an establishment requires great attention to detail, and the admirable management of the enterprising proprietors is a model in its way. Their cutters are classified into four departments: one department exclusively for coats; a second for pants; a third for vests; and a fourth for trimmings; with a foreman, whose duty it is to supply the cutters with work, to employ hands, and to give out and receive the garments from them. The hands are also classed (according to their skill, capacity, and promptness) into grades—they earn from $3 up to $15 per week; and some piece-masters, who have many hands under them, draw from $25 to $150 per week. The number of hands employed in working for this establishment, including those employed by the piece-masters, rarely falls short of 2,000, many of these supporting large families. They are scarcely ever out of work, for the wholesale and retail trade so dovetail into each other, that before the country trade is over the city trade commences, and vice versa. Their corps of salesmen, clerks, &c., are well appointed and complete. This will give some idea of the importance of this manufacture in New-York; and when we add to it the fact, that the Messrs. Devlin, like many other establishments in the city, supply the retail merchants in the most widely separated States, North, South, and West, with stocks of clothing, especially suited to their various localities, and this to an unlimited extent, we hazard little in saying that the clothing trade is fast increasing in importance, not only to the manufacturing interests, but to the commerce of our country."

LOCKE'S PATENT PORTABLE CHAMBER, VAPOR, DOUCHE, AND SHOWER BATHS, MANUFACTURED AND SOLD, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL, BY JOHN LOCKE, 47 ANN and 68 BEEKMAN-ST.—This Bath is acknowledged, by all who have used it, to be superior to any thing ever manufactured for the purpose. It has received the following premiums: In 1847, at the Fair of the American Institute, N. Y., a Diploma; at the Rensselaer County Fair, Troy, N. Y., a Diploma; in 1848, at the State Fair in Saratoga, N. Y., a Silver Medal; at the Fair of the American Institute, N. Y., 1848, a Silver Medal; at the Fair of the Institute, in 1849, a Diploma; and at the Fair of the Institute in 1850, a Diploma; in competition with many others, and is highly recommended by the most scientific men.

It may be converted into a simple or medicated Vapor Bath, by attaching a small apparatus with a spirit lamp, which is sold with the Bath if required.

Prices range from $8 to $18. Steam Generator, with its appurtenances, $5. Persons at a distance desiring further information relative to size, style of finish, and prices, can, by addressing the subscriber, be furnished with a circular containing particulars.

RECOMMENDATIONS.—From W. A. Hamilton, M. D., Dr. of the Troy Hydropathic Inst.—"Families who have not room, or are not able to fit up a bathing apparatus, can buy one of Locke's Shower Baths, which contains all the essentials of a more expensive bathing room. This is one of the best baths, and should be in every family."

From Dr. Shew's Water Cure Journal.—"This Bath has many advantages not found in any other. 1. The water is elevated by means of a crank and pulley, requiring but slight effort, and which is not liable to get out of order. 2. The bath may be used either in the form of shower or douche; and a liberal supply of water is given at a time; and by placing a cork in the bottom of the apparatus, it is conveniently used as a hip bath, or bathing tub."

Remarks by O. S. Fowler, Ed. Am. Phrenological Journal.—"Shower bathing is one of the best forms, because its sudden shock causes that reaction and healthful glow so absolutely indispensable. This is facilitated by bathing immediately on rising, because the warm and moist state of the body every way promotes this reaction. To females, this chamber bath is doubly advantageous, being easily charged even by a child. Locke's Patent Shower, Douche, and Vapor Bath should be extensively used. I decidedly prefer it to all others. In the water cure, it will be found incomparably superior to all others."

Extract from 2d Edition of Dr. Powell's Book on the Eye.—"I decidedly prefer Locke's Patent Combination Bath to all others. It combines economy, durability, simplicity, and portability. Mr. Locke has further added to its usefulness by connecting to the reservoir a fine tube, which answers an excellent purpose as an eye fountain."

From F. Hunt, Esq., Editor of Hunt's Merchant's Mag.—"I consider your Bath superior in every particular to those with weights. Its convenience and its facility of application render it a necessary article of furniture in every house."

The Bowery Savings Store,

This extensive establishment, for the sale of DRY GOODS, at wholesale or retail, is one of the most popular in the United States. The plan upon which business is carried on at this institution is entirely novel, and by an up-town concern heretofore unattempted. 1st. All the Foreign Goods in the store are imported by the concern, or bought from the large auctions. 2d. All the Domestic Goods are received from the factories direct, under an arrangement between the proprietors and the manufacturers, and goods are thereby obtained at the lowest possible prices; and the advantages, and all the saving which under the ordinary mode of doing business is paid to the importer, jobber, or agent, is reserved for and allowed to the consumer and purchaser

Dealers supplied for Cash from a magnificent stock, at less prices by far than are generally afforded by jobbers.

House Furnishing Warerooms, 601 Broadway.—The Establishment of Messrs. J. & C. BERRIAN is, beyond doubt, the largest of its kind in America. The assortment of goods in each department is more thorough and complete than can be found elsewhere. To give our readers a faint conception of their immense assortment, we would mention that their stock of Cooking Utensils alone is made up from four different countries—presenting every thing of value for culinary purposes, from the manufacturers of England, France, Germany, and America.

The Berrians import their foreign, and buy from the manufacturers, for Cash, their Domestic Goods, in large quantities, to supply their wholesale, as well as their retail trade, which enables them to sell all their Goods at the lowest prices.

We would advise our readers to visit this Establishment, were it only to gratify their curiosity in learning how many thousands of articles are made to increase the comfort and pleasure of housekeeping.

Illustrated Catalogues (a book of 64 closely printed pages) may be had, gratis, at their Warerooms, 601 Broadway.

LOCKE'S IMPROVED MEAT SAFES, also LOCKE'S REFRIGERATORS, manufactured by John Locke & Co., 47 Ann-street. These Improved Meat Safes are offered by the manufacturer at as low prices as any other establishment in the city. They are a very desirable article for the purposes intended. He also manufactures the very best Refrigerators got up in the city; being dove-tailed and properly put together in the best possible manner, he flatters himself that they will give every satisfaction to the purchaser. They may be had at the Patent Bath Depot, 47 Ann-street. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

Prrincipal Daily Newspapers in New-York.

The NEW-YORK COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER is the oldest newspaper in the City, and, we believe, in the State of New-York. The first number appeared on the 9th of December, 1793, under the title of "The American Minerva, Patroness of Peace, Commerce, and the Liberal Arts," George Bruce & Co., publishers; Noah Webster, jun., editor. It contained the speech of General Washington at the opening of Congress, and also five advertisements. On the 18th of March, 1794, the number of advertisements having increased to thirty, and the ship news to as many lines, it was determined to enlarge the paper from its original demy size to the common medium, half-way between demy and royal. On the day following, therefore, the enlarged paper appeared under the title of "American Minerva, Patroness of Peace, Commerce, and the Liberal Arts, and the New-York Evening Advertiser." In 1797, the paper was called "The Minerva and Mercantile Advertiser," and was published by Hopkins & Webb. In the following year the name of the paper was changed to its present title, "Commercial Advertiser." On the 1st of July, 1799, Mr. Hopkins retired from the establishment, and Mr. Webster received into copartnership his nephew, Mr. E. Belden. The firm was E. Belden & Co., The partnership of these gentlemen was dissolved in November 1803, both retiring from the concern to make room for Mr. Zachariah Lewis. In the spring of 1811 Mr. Francis Hall, the present senior proprietor, became connected with the establishment; and, in January 1813, the paper was published by Lewis & Hall. Mr. Lewis retained his interest until the close of March, 1820, when he sold his portion to Col. William L. Stone. The paper then changed its publishing title to Francis Hall & Co. The proprietorship continued with the last two until January 1833, when the son of the senior partner, Mr. John B. Hall, was taken into the concern, the publishing title continuing the same.

No farther change was made in the proprietorship of the journal until August, 1844, when, at the decease of the lamented Col. Stone, his interest was purchased by the surviving partners. Under their management the paper has continued to the present time, maintaining fully the reputation it had formerly acquired and sustained during its existence of more than half a century.

The Commercial Advertiser is an evening paper, and in many respects occupies a position different from that of any other journal in the city. Some of its daily contemporaries are devoted principally to the discussion of political questions, and the sphere of others is confined mostly to registering the commercial operations and news of the day. The conductors of the Commercial Advertiser, while paying due attention to those important branches of a newspaper, aim also to make their journal emphatically a family paper. A portion of its columns is therefore regularly appropriated to miscellaneous reading, the greatest care being scrupulously exercised in its selection, and all articles excluded which could justly offend the delicacy of even the most fastidious. This, of itself, is a feature to make the paper popular; but it is by no means its sole recommendation to the favor of the public: its system of foreign and domestic correspondence is comprehensive and judiciously arranged. The gentlemen employed in that department are of reliable character and established reputation, and the letters emanating from them are probably more generally copied by contemporary journals than is the correspondence of any other paper in the country. Its digest of news, both from home and abroad, is very full and complete. It reprints all public documents of interest and importance; contains special, full, and accurate reports of commercial and financial affairs; daily notices and weekly reviews of the markets; a weekly price current, bank note table, &c.; a record of the sales at the stock board, and, in fact, due attention is paid to all matters of interest in the commercial world.

The semi-weekly issue of the Commercial Advertiser is the New-York Spectator. It contains all the reading matter, congressional debates, public documents, foreign and domestic news, editorials, &c., of the daily paper.

The circulation of both these papers is large for the class to which they belong. The daily is found in the counting-rooms of most of the merchants in this and the principal cities of the northern section of the Union, and is probably more generally read in the families of the most opulent inhabitants of New-York than any other journal. The semi-weekly is an especial favorite in the country, and numbers among its readers many of the first families in this State, the Union, and Canada.

The New-York Evening Post.—This paper was established about the year 1800, under the auspices of the celebrated Alexander Hamilton, at that time the leading political mind of the State of New-York. It was edited by William Coleman, a writer of considerable force and sagacity, and who continued to manage it with great success for many years. Its politics, under his management, was what were then federal, and they remained unchanged until the famous campaign between Jackson and Adams commenced, when Mr. Wm. Cullen Bryant became connected with it, as an assistant editor. At first, Mr. Bryant contented himself with mere literary and miscellaneous contributions to its columns; but he afterwards took part in its politics, when he gave quite another tone and direction to its speculations. He induced it gradually to take part on the democratic republican side; and, becoming the sole editor of it after a while, the paper was strongly committed to what were considered extreme liberal views. Mr. Bryant, in 1831 or 5, was joined by the late Wm. Leggett, who infused into the discussions of the paper a still more decided democratic tone. After the retirement of Mr. Leggett, Mr. Parke Godwin became the assistant editor. The paper is now edited by Mr. Bryant, Mr. John Bigelow, and Mr. Godwin. It has always maintained a high character for ability and truth. The exalted poetical reputation of the leading editor, Mr. Bryant, has given it a wide influence. Its circulation, though never very large, has always been considerable, and it is well known from one end of the Union to the other. It is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, newspaper in the State. It began of a small size, but is now a large folio sheet. Its commercial patronage is extensive and profitable; and we are told that it has made the fortune of its proprietors once or twice over. The price at which it is circulated is ten dollars per annum for the daily paper, two dollars for the semi-weekly, and one dollar for the weekly. The weekly paper is the largest and cheapest of its kind published in the city of New-York.

The New-York Mirror—Daily and Weekly—published at the corner of Ann and Nassau, by H. Fuller, editor and proprietor.

The New-York Mirror was started in 1822, by Gen. Geo. P. Morris, and continued for twenty years without interruption. It was then changed to the New Mirror, and published for a little over a year, by Morris & Willis. This was merged, on the 7th October, 1844, into the New-York Weekly Mirror, and the present folio form was adopted. At the same time, the Daily Evening Mirror was started by Morris, Willis & Fuller, by whom it was jointly conducted until December, 1845, when Mr. Fuller purchased the interests of Morris & Willis, and has continued from that time to the present, about five years, sole editor and proprietor. Both the daily and weekly have attained a wide circulation, and a reputation for ability and independence, of which the conductor has great reason to be proud. The Mirror was the first paper to nominate General Taylor for the Presidency, and one of the most enthusiastic and efficient advocates of his election. In politics, the Mirror combines a prudent conservatism with a liberal spirit of progress. Mr. Fuller is a Free-Trade Whig. He holds the office of naval store-keeper at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. He is about thirty-five years of age, and a native of Plymouth county, Massachusetts. He married, in New-York, the daughter of a millionaire.

The Morning Courier and New-York Enquirer.—The Courier and Enquirer enjoys the distinction of being the largest daily newspaper in the world—each number containing twice as much matter as a number of the London Times, and very nearly as much as the Times with its double-sheet advertising supplement. It was started in May, 1827, as the New-York Courier, and was bought by Col. J. Watson Webb, in 1827. In 1829, it was united with the New-York Enquirer, and has ever since borne its present name. Until 1832 it was an advocate and organ of the Democratic party. In that year it abandoned Gen. Jackson's administration in consequence of his war upon the Bank of the United States, and it has ever since been an advocate of Whig principles, though less subservient to party organization than most of the avowedly partisan papers. It is still owned by Col. Webb, who is also the senior editor; but Mr. H. J. Raymond, who has been associated with him in its editorial conduct since 1844, has a proprietary interest in the paper to the extent of one-third, and Mr. George H. Andrews, the cashier and general business manager, has also an interest to the extent of one-ninth. The commercial and ship-news departments are in the hands of Mr. Robert S. Webb and Mr. Wm. E. Thompson. Mr. Wm. O. Mumford, the principal book keeper, has been connected with the establishment from the day the paper was started. The Courier and Enquirer, though mainly a commercial paper, devotes its columns to politics, literature, and general news, and enjoys a high reputation and commanding influence. It has an extensive correspondence in all parts of the world, and exhibits marked enterprise and energy in all departments. Its advertising patronage is greater and more lucrative than that of any other paper in the United States. Its daily circulation, at $10 per copy, is about 5,000; and its semi-weekly and weekly editions, at $4 and $2 respectively, about as much more. The daily paper is printed upon an immense folio sheet, and has forty-four columns, each measuring 29 inches in length. The contents of a single number, if printed in a continuous column, would extend to over 106 feet. Its annual expenses are not far from $100,000; its profits, probably exceed $30,000.

The Journal of Commerce—Daily, Semi-weekly, and Weekly—was commenced on the 1st of Sept., 1827. Arthur Tappan, Esq., was its proprietor; William Maxwell, an eminent lawyer, from Norfolk, Virginia, its principal editor; and David Hale, from Boston, its commercial editor and superintendent of business affairs. Mr. Maxwell left before the expiration of the first year. In December, 1828, an arrangement was entered into, by which David Hale and Gerard Hallock became conditional proprietors of the establishment—a purchase which was afterwards fully consummated. They continued joint editors and proprietors until Mr. Hale's death, in January, 1849, since which date the paper has been conducted by Mr. Hallock. The establishment is still owned by himself and the heirs of Mr. Hale.

Having been several times enlarged, the dimensions of the Journal of Commerce sheet are now 52 inches by 35, comprising an area of 1820 square inches, or more than thirteen square feet, on each side. Its daily circulation is between 4,500 and 5,000, and it has about 700 yearly advertisers, together with a large amount of piece advertising. The semi-weekly and weekly (the latter called the New-York Mercury) have together a circulation about equal to the daily—total circulation, about 9,000. Three-fourths of the daily paper are usually occupied with advertisements: these, with the commercial and marine intelligence contained in its columns, make it sought for by business men, among whom its circulation is very large.

The NEW-YORK SUN, "the Pioneer of the Penny Press," was first presented to the public on the 3d day of September, A. D. 1833. It was not started as a speculation, but with a view to fill up unemployed time in a book and job printing-office, rather than with any expectation that it would eventually prove a source of direct profit and advantage. It was, indeed, an experiment, and he would have been thought beside himself who dared then predict for it a success one-half as brilliant as that which has been developed by the lapse of time. Its diminutive size, in comparison with the large sixpenny papers, and the spicy manner in which the news of the day was touched upon in its columns, were "taking" novelties; but, although it rapidly found favor, and constantly increased the number of its daily issues, three or four years elapsed before it became of sufficient consequence in the eyes of its proprietors to merit their undivided attention. The character of the sheet cannot be more aptly described than by quoting, from the imprint of the first number, the only introductory which was ever bestowed upon it.

"The object of this paper is to lay before the public, at a price within the means of every one, ALL THE NEWS OF THE DAY, and at the same time afford an advantageous medium for advertising. The sheet will be enlarged as soon as the increase of advertising requires it—the price remaining the same."

What volumes of information were conveyed by that terse paragraph! Never was the object of any publication more fully carried out. ALL the news of the day has been laid before the public in the columns of the Sun, for more than seventeen years, and at a price within the reach of all—the smallest recognized coin of the country will buy a copy of it. That it has ever afforded an advantageous means of advertising, whole fortunes realized by merchants and others, principally through its instrumentality, bear most undeniable proof. The little seven-by-nine sheet, which excited so much derision and scorn among its older competitors, has been enlarged to six times its original size, and the price has remained the same.

When the "Penny Sun," as it was called, became of sufficient importance to demand the whole time of its publishers, and to yield in return a fair remuneration for the labor bestowed upon it, the most signal success marked its course. and, as its prospects brightened, the most energetic effort and the most determined enterprise were lavished upon it with no sparing hand. Expresses by earth, air, and water, to provide its columns with early news, were devised and executed with a rapidity and at an expense which startled its neighbors, while they constantly excited attention, not only in New-York, but throughout the country. An alliance of the press, in opposition to the Sun, was, in 1841, one of the results of these specimens of enterprise; but the Sun, even then, maintained its position, by winning two successive heats in the transmission of European news from Boston to New-York, in the face of many disadvantages. Another great contributing cause to the success of the Sun has been its fearless and independent course of treating all the topics of the day, sustaining at every hazard the institutions of the country, good morals, and the best welfare of the masses. Unfettered by political or party ties of any kind, it has used its influence constantly for the general good, and with most decided effect. Many great reforms and improvements, both in the city and in the country, have been effected principally through their unceasing propagation in the columns of the Sun.

The machinery and perfection of the process of publishing a daily paper are nowhere to be found more complete than in the Sun establishment of the present day. Its presses are the most rapid in movement of any in the world, and its daily circulation, in single editions, is by far the greatest. During the early portion of its career, 500 copies per day was considered a large number—now, nearly 60,000 copies are printed and distributed every day. Then, one man and one boy performed an amount of labor which, by its increase, now requires the attentions of two hundred employees, assisted by a ten-horse steam-engine Great as is the business now done in the Sun establishment, it is constantly increasing, and where it may end none can tell. So long as it commands the energy, judgment, and tact by which it is now guided, it cannot be said to have reached its prime.

The Weekly Sun, at $1 a year, has been published for fourteen years, has a large circulation—750 reams of paper per week are used—39,000 reams per year—$117,000 value. Pay roll, for labor, nearly $50,000 per year; besides the earnings of the carriers, about $60,000 more. Type, changed every seven weeks, about $10 000 per year. Ink and coal cost about $5,000 per year. New press—to print 25,000 per hour, nearly done—costs $20,000.

The New-York Herald.—This celebrated newspaper is published at the northwest corner of Nassau and Fulton-streets, in the city of New-York. It was established by the present proprietor, James Gordon Bennett, in May, 1835, since which time its success has been unparalleled. The proprietor issues, besides the daily paper, with a circulation of 30,000, a weekly paper with a circulation of 15,000. Upon the departure of every steamer for Europe, an edition in the French and English languages is published, as well as an edition for each steamer for California. The paper is printed on two of Hoe's famous presses, capable of throwing off from ten to twelve thousand sheets per hour; and the proprietor is now making extensive improvements which will facilitate the publication of the paper in a great degree. There are engaged, fourteen editors and reporters, besides one hundred printers and pressmen, to say nothing of the hundreds of correspondents in every part of the world. The circulation of the New-York Herald, unlike that of any other paper in the country, is universal, and extends to every section of the civilized world. The price of the daily paper is $7 per year, and that of the weekly, $3. The daily Herald is published every day except the 5th of July and 2d of January—the preceding days to which are general holidays, and enjoyed by the members of the press as well as by other citizens.

The NEW-YORK EXPRESS has been published by James and Erastus Brooks since its union with the New-York Daily Advertiser, in 1836, one of the oldest papers in the United States, at that time published by Messrs. Dwight and Townsend. The Morning Express is one of the largest folio sheets in the city, and is devoted largely to the commercial interests, though sharing all the advantages conferred by the Evening Express, which is more of a family and general newspaper. The Express, in politics, is Conservative Whig. Besides the regular morning and evening issues, there are two, and sometimes three editions published intermediately: the design being to give all sorts of news up to the last moment, previous to the departure of the mails.

Principal Editors, James and Erastus Brooks; musical and dramatic do., James F. Otis; assistant editor, Alexander K. McMillan; commercial do., Selah C. Cornish; city news do., Clement E. Hopkins; law reporter, Edgar F. Davis. Besides these there are attached to the reportorial staff, two city news reporters, one Brooklyn reporter, and one in New Jersey, also several collectors of shipping intelligence.

The circulation of the Express is very large, and embraces every State in the Union. The aggregate issue of its several editions is estimated at twelve thousand.

The TRIBUNE is now in the tenth year of its existence, and has not been without its share in the rapid improvement which, during this time has distinguished the American press. Originally commenced by its founder as a penny paper, it was for some months conducted by him without any editorial assistance except in the commercial department. But with its success and enlargement came the increasing necessity for that organization which can alone worthily occupy the various departments of editorial labor, and guarantee to a journal a permanent value. Thus, from necessity, the Tribune establishment has gradually been increased, until now it gives employment to 12 editors and reporters, 37 printers, 2 proof-readers, 13 pressmen, engineers, and others in the pressroom, 4 permanent correspondents in Europe, 3 at Washington, 2 in Canada, 1 in California, 1 in Havana, 1 in Philadelphia, &c., 4 wrapper-writers, 4 clerks, 16 hands in the mailing department, 3 errand-boys, and 37 carriers—in all, 137 persons steadily engaged. In addition, there are a large number of writers, in various parts of Europe and all over this country, who make the Tribune the vehicle of such intelligence as they have to communicate to the public; but we have enumerated only those who permanently form a portion of the establishment. The issues of the paper are now, in round numbers, 18,000 daily, 41,000 weekly, 1,700 semi-weekly, 3,300 for California, 400 for Europe, making 156,000 sheets weekly, and 8,117,200 annually distributed to all sections of this country, and to the principal places in other parts of the civilized world. This must not, however, be taken as the permanent number—for, since the enlargement of the daily on April 10th last, the circulation has increased 2,500 copies, in spite of the effect of the warm season, which usually diminishes the circulation of newspapers. In the same time the weekly has gained 1,500, and the California Tribune 1000. At this rate, by the 10th of April next, the daily will circulate 25,000 copies, and the weekly 45,000 copies, while the aggregate annual circulation of the New-York Tribune will be 10,000,000 copies.

REGULATIONS FOR CIRCUITS.

All the issues of fact already joined and triable in the City of New-York, will be noticed to the Clerk, and be put on the Calendar for the ensuing December Circuit.

During the first week of that Circuit, motions to correct the Calendar may be made.

After that week, the Calendar will be printed, and will remain unchanged, and continue the Calendar for every successive Circuit, until all the causes on it shall be tried; each Circuit beginning on the Calendar, where the immediately preceding Circuit left off.

Fifteen causes a day, and no more will be called.

No cause will be set down for a particular day, unless sworn off, when called, on account of the absence of a witness and on payment of costs.

If the trial of a cause shall not be moved, by the party noticing it, when called in its order on the Calendar, it will go to the foot of the Calendar, and not be called again until it shall be reached in that place.

All new issues will be noticed for the first day of the next Circuit, after the same shall be joined and be put in their order at the foot of the permanent Calendar.

After the first week of each Circuit (during which motions to correct the Calendar may be made), the Calendar of the causes which may have gone down at the previous Circuit, and the new issues will be printed as part and in continuation of the permanent Calendar, and so on, from Court to Court, until 1st January, 1851.

These regulations do not affect the question of noticing the causes for trial to the opposite party, from court to court, as the Statute may require. By order, GEO. W. RIBLET, Clerk.

Trinity Church Cemetery.

This Cemetery is situated on the high grounds near Manhattanville, on the island of New-York, extending from 153d-street to 155th-street, and from the Tenth Avenue to Hudson River. The grounds are high, giving a commanding view of the Hudson River, Highlands, and Jersey shore, the village of Harlem, the Sound, and Long Island shore. The grounds are beautifully laid out in avenues and walks, and well covered with a great variety of wood, ornamental trees, evergreens, and shrubbery. The soil is of the most suitable kind for burial purposes.

This Cemetery is fenced in the most secure and permanent manner. A keeper's lodge is on the grounds, and a keeper in constant attendance to show the grounds, and to give such information as may be required in relation to the Cemetery.

The whole of the Burial and Vault Plots are fronted on avenues. The price of the regular sized lots, 15 feet square, is $60 in the easterly division, and $65 in the westerly division; smaller and larger sized lots can be had at a proportionate price. A portion of the grounds have been laid out for single interments. The price for an interment is as follows: For persons fourteen years of age and upwards, in graves, $5; in church vaults, $7; for persons under fourteen, and over five years of age, in graves, $3; in vaults, $4; for those under five years, in graves, $2; in vaults, $2 50. The keeper's charge for opening graves, for persons of fourteen years and upwards, is $2; under fourteen and over five, $1 50; under five years, $1; the price for opening and closing vaults, in all cases, is $1.

When interments are to be made in this Cemetery, the use of the Chapel at the Clarkson-street Burial Ground, to perform the service in, will be granted, if desired, and the use of the Receiving Tomb, at that place or at the Cemetery, will also be granted without charge, excepting $1 to the sexton for opening.

The avenues and roads leading to the Cemetery are good at all seasons of the year. A steamboat runs throughout the year to convey funerals, at one shilling each passenger; also the Manhattanville line of stages leave the Hall of Records every forty minutes for the Cemetery; passage eighteen pence. The Harlem cars also convey passengers to the Cemetery. Further information may be had at the Vestry office, corner of Fulton and Church-streets, where the printed rules and regulations, together with a map or plan of the Cemetery, can be had gratis.

For interments, apply at the above office, from nine o'clock, A. M., to three P. M.; or to David Lyon, Sexton of Trinity Church, 44 Greenwich-street; James S. Martin, Sexton of St. Paul's Chapel, 35 Murray-street; or to Wm. Maslin, Sexton of St. John's Chapel, 17 Clarkson-street.

Persons can employ Sextons of other Churches, or such undertakers as they may wish.

Persons wishing to purchase Burial Plots, can apply for that purpose either at the Vestry-office, or to Henry Youngs, 103 Clinton-Place; to Henry Cotheal, No. 393 Fourth-street; or to Alexander L. McDonald. No. 52 John-street, where a map of the Cemetery Grounds, and the regulations of the Cemetery Grounds, may be seen.

N. B. No tax or charge whatever is made to the owners of private burial plots or vaults, for keeping the grounds in order, or ornamenting the same.

CEMETERY OF THE EVERGREENS.

OFFICE NO. 291 FULTON-ST., BROOKLYN,
" " 290 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK.

Just at that point where the dividing forest and ridge of Long Island recedes toward the plain of Brooklyn and Williamsburgh, near and in full view of the inner bay and the Atlantic ocean, the East river, and the surrounding bays, is situated the inclosure of "The Cemetery of the Evergreens."

The surface is beautifully diversified with hill and slope, sunny plain, knoll, and dell, and wild wood lake. The forest crowns each hill, is interspersed through each valley, and is of every variety of deciduous and evergreen growing upon Long Island.

The approach from Williamsburgh (about three and a half miles) is much finer than from Brooklyn ferry, five miles distant.

The Chapel, an antique Huguenot tower, is very fine; two or three massive stone towrets and wall, in the Norman style, form the entrance gate. This, with the park and dell, as you enter the grounds, forms a rural picture exceedingly pleasing and appropriate. The grounds are very beautiful, traversed by fine, broad roads, laid out with much taste.

The landscape and grounds are designed and laid out by the topographer; the buildings are from designs by the rural architect.

The Charter of this institution contains every provision requisite to secure the most liberal adornment, the fullest protection, and a perpetual care of the whole domain, comprising over two hundred acres (with the privilege of extension to five hundred), and situated just without the bounds of the city of Brooklyn, in the midst of a rural district, its extensive domain is protected by legislative enactment, from streets or roads, from the liability of executions, taxes, or assessments.

In all cases, warranty deeds are given, in fee simple, for each lot sold or offered for sale.

The price of lots is $60 each, for lots of 400 superficial feet. Where five, or more, are taken together, $— each; when ten, or more, are taken, $— each; when twenty, or more, are taken, $— each. Lots of less than 400 superficial feet vary from $30 up to $58. Lots are provided for strangers at $25 each.

The price for a full-sized grave, usual depth, is $6 50; a grave for a child under ten years of age, $4 50.

Ample provision is made upon the grounds (if desired) for chapel exercises and religious interment.

Tickets admitting a family, are given to all purchasers of graves or lots.

Tickets of admission for non-lot-holders, or applications for interments, may be had at the offices above mentioned, or of the undertakers in New-York and Brooklyn.

Pamphlets containing the rules, regulations, charter, &c., may be had, free of charge, at the New-York or Brooklyn offices.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

THE GREAT POPULARITY OF

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDERS,

For the destruction of Bedbugs, Cockroaches, Moths, Ants, Fleas, Flies, &c., and Insects on Plants, and all other Insects, has prompted certain parties to prepare spurious articles, and offer them under various denominations, for sale. Few of these individuals dare to give their impositions out as "free of poison." The proprietor of the original article has in this city, only the undermentioned agents, and the principal depot is at 420 Broadway, where also may be obtained Pills for the instantaneous destruction of Rats and Mice. Both articles are warranted free of poison, and their efficacy has been tried by the following gentlemen:

New-York, Oct. 1, 1850.

I have made a chemical examination of the VEGETABLE POWDER prepared by Mr. Emanuel Lyon, for the purpose of destroying insects. I do not find it to contain any thing deleterious to health, or what might be considered poisonous to the human species; but it is very destructive to insects, whenever they are forced to inhale the fine particles or dust occasioned by throwing the Powder forcibly in places where they frequent. JAS. R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.

READ THE FOLLOWING LETTER:

NEW-YORK Hospital, June 5, 1850.

I have analyzed E. Lyon's Magnetic Powder, for destruction of insects, and certify that it is entirely free from mineral or other corrosive poison. As the result of my examination, I would say that it is a combination of various vegetable substances having a peculiar influence on the insect kingdom, and that it may be used with perfect safety. With respect to its utility, its effects are astonishing. I believe it to be a skilfully prepared substance by which a valuable result is obtained, which does effect what Mr. Lyon says, and is well deserving of public patronage. LAWRENCE REID, Prof. of Chemistry.

The following gentlemen have also recommended these preparations:

JOHN L. ROOME, Sup't New-York Hospital.
DANIEL D. HOWARD, Irving House, N. Y.
PRESTON H. HODGES, Carlton House, N. Y.
S. T. COZZENS, American Hotel, N. Y.
COLEMAN & STETSON, Astor House.
JONAS B. PHILLIPS, Assistant District Attorney, N. Y.

☞These articles received the HIGHEST PREMIUM at the late Fair of the American Institute.

WILSON'S

STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY

OF THE

CITY OF NEW-YORK.

(Corrected October 20, 1849.)

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1849, by H. WILSON, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New-York.

Explanation.

If you wish to find the location of any dwelling-house or store,—for instance, No 80 Allen-street,—on consulting the Street Directory, you will observe that 68 Allen is on the right-hand of that street and on the corner of Grand, and 88 Allen is on the right-hand corner of Broome: hence the desired number, 80 Allen, will be on the right-hand side of Allen-street, between Grand and Broome.

Or suppose that you are going up Broadway and wish to take a cross street, so as to call at 128 Bowery: on examination (see Bowery) of the corner numbers in the Bowery, you will observe that 127 Bowery is on the corner of the Bowery and Grand;—hence, by passing from Broadway through Grand-street to the Bowery, you are opposite to the desired number, 128.

NOTE.—The streets above Twelfth-street are divided by Fifth Avenue into East and West,—as East Thirteenth, West Thirteenth,—and the streets located as above described will be found, therefore, in this work under East and West.

THE PURITY AND

WHITENESS OF SKIN,

WHICH THE USE OF

produces, is surpassingly beautiful. Not a vestige of Tan, Freckles, Sallowness, Sunburn, Pimples, Frowsiness, Roughness, Chaps, Chafes, or other cutaneous disfigurements, can be seen upon the skin which is frequently washed with this marvellous compound. The purest alabaster could scarcely rival in whiteness, smoothness, and transparency, the complexion which has been beautified by this delicious Soap.

Gouraud's Hair Restorative, or Circassian Gloss, not only possesses the wonderful power of imparting to wiry hair a rich silkiness and superb gloss, but it also restores the hair to places whence it has fallen off!

GOURAUD'S LIQUID ROUGE

gives to the pale lips and cheeks a rosiness so permanent, that it cannot be removed by the most violent rubbing!

GOURAUD'S POUDRE SUBTILE

is warranted to uproot hair from low foreheads, or any part of the body.

GOURAUD'S LIQUID HAIR DYE

will instantly change red, gray, or white hair to a beautiful brown or black, without staining the skin.

GOURAUD'S LILY WHITE is much prized by the ladies.

Caution.—The genuine preparations of Dr. FELIX GOURAUD are only to be had at 67 Walker-street, first store from (not in) Broadway.

Agents.—BATES & JORDAN, 129 Washington street, Boston; T. R. CALLENDER, 88 South Third-street, Philadelphia.

NOTICE. All preparations heretofore known as "COMSTOCK'S" or COMSTOCK & CO.'s, always belonged & now belong EXCLUSIVELY to Dr. Lucius S. Comstock; and though the signature of Comstock & Co. will be continued, this extra label with the fac simile signature of Dr. L. S. C. will in future designate the GENUINE.

TO PAPER MANUFACTURERS.

A. & C. respectfully inform Paper Manufacturers they are prepared to supply the following articles of material for paper making, on as favorable terms as any house in the trade, viz :—

Bleaching Powder, Ultramarine, Felting, Wire Cloth, Alum, Soda Ash, Smalts, Oil of Vitriol, and all descriptions of Paper makers' stock, at the lowest prices.

A. & C. would invite a call from Paper makers, and at the same time solicit their attention to the fact, that they are appointed sole agents for Von Schmidt's celebrated Centrifugal Pump, which is unequalled in point of economy, simplicity of action, and the amount of water it is capable of raising in a given time. Letters of recommendation from some of the most celebrated paper makers and many others, who pronounced it the best in use; one of its most essential appliances is, that it can be readily converted to answer for the use of a Fire Engine in case of fire. It has been used by the United States government in the construction of the Water Battery at Staten Island, and also at the fortifications, in progress on the Tortugas Keys, Florida. Full particulars with regard to prices, &c., can be learned by calling at 192 Fulton street.

A superior quality of News and Book Ink, constantly on hand.

TEETH FILLED WITHOUT PAIN! Dr. H. E. SCHOONMAKER, SURGEON DENTIST, No. 175 Twelfth-st., between 5th Av. & Univ. Place.

Dr. S. is happy in having it in his power to inform those whose teeth are peculiarly sensitive, that he has discovered a palliative, by which the most sensitive tooth can be filled without producing the least degree of pain. The article is a chemical preparation, known only by himself, the insertion of a small portion of which in the most sensitive cavity, renders it perfectly insensible to pain, and thus enables the most nervous and delicate individuals to avail themselves of this useful operation.

The operation of filling decayed teeth with gold or platina is an important one, the utility of which, if properly done, is effectual in arresting the decay, and rendering them useful through life.

Dr. S. would respectfully solicit attention to this advertisement from those who need artificial teeth, as he feels confident in this branch of dentistry he cannot be excelled.

His manner of inserting artificial teeth varies in many essential points from the usual mode, and his success in pleasing all, he is happy to say, has brought him many difficult cases, which had been treated unsuccessfully by dentists of distinguished professional reputation, and whose prices for the same operation were double his own. The object of inserting artificial teeth is to supply the deficiency occasioned by the loss of natural teeth, both with regard to utility, comfort in wearing, and natural appearance. In all these points Dr. S.'s manner is pre-eminent. By a series of experiments he has been enabled to surmount many obstacles, which have long, with the profession generally, impeded the path to success in every operation.

His entire sets, on the atmospheric principle, prepared with artificial gums, possess every essential requisite. Their appearance in the mouth is so natural as to render detection impossible, and their utility in mastication is all that can be desired.

RATS! RATS!! RATS!!!

E. OLIVER'S

PATENT SELF-SETTING REVOLVING RAT TRAP

Is decidedly the best Rat-Catcher in the United States. It has, and will deceive the most cunning old rats, that have been too wide awake for all other traps. The sagacity of the varmint will be of no avail with this ingenious Trap.

Manufactured and for sale at No. 25 Fulton Street, corner of Water, up stairs. Also, Brass, Copper, and Iron Wove Wire; every description of Fancy Wire Work for Flower Gardens, Windows and Libraries, Wire Fenders and Fire Guards, Coal and Sand Screens, Sieves and Riddles, &c. &c.

MECHANICAL MEDICINE.

DR. BANNING,

After having treated and experimented several years, and greatly improved and multiplied his

Braces, Spinal Supporters and Trusses

For the purpose, has returned to

341 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK,

Where he may be consulted for the relief of female complaints, spinal affections, and derangements of the vocal, pulmonary, nervous, and digestive functions.

Invalids from a distance will receive particular attention. Physicians and dealers are invited to call and examine.

Letter from Capt. Thos. T. T. Tabb.

DOVER MILLS, VA., April 16, 1847.

GENTLEMEN :—It affords me much pleasure to say to you, that the Brace you kindly sent me on trial, some two months since, has been of incalculable benefit to Mrs. Tabb, having done for her more than the best medical aid could effect in the three previous years. For nearly four years Mrs. Tabb has suffered with prolapsus, and has been compelled to keep her bed for months at a time, and was unable to walk or ride. Since the use of Dr. Banning's Brace she has almost recovered, and exercises freely, walking faster than many in perfect health, and occasionally rides in a buggy twenty miles, without the slightest inconvenience. It would be a difficult matter to induce her to part with it, believing as she does, that it is a wonderful invention, and most invaluable. Several persons who have observed this case, have been induced to try the Brace themselves, and they likewise are doing well, and greatly pleased with it. I have an aversion to appearing in public prints, but believing, as I do, that the Brace, properly applied, will benefit all suffering, as in the case referred to, and being myself truly grateful for the benefits my wife has received, I do not feel at liberty to say you must not publish this, if, in your judgment, you ought.

THOMAS T. T. TABB.

NEW-YORK WATER-CURE INSTITUTION,

CORNER OF TWELFTH-STREET AND UNIVERSITY PLACE

(NEAR BROADWAY, NEW YORK.)

THE NEW-YORK WATER-CURE INSTITUTION,

CONDUCTED BY

JOEL SHEW, M. D., and MR O. H. WELLINGTON,

Is the largest City Establishment of the kind in the United States.

TERMS.—The rates of board and treatment (payable weekly) vary from $1 to $2 per day, according to the room and the amount of attention necessary in the case. Usually a medical fee of $5 will be required.—Each Patient should bring two large woollen blankets, one coarse linen and two coarse cotton sheets, and what towels are required; or these may be furnished at a charge of fifty cents a week.

DAY PATIENTS, residing about the city, are received for treatment when it is desired.

OUT-DOOR CITY PRACTICE is attended to, night or day, on reasonable terms, as heretofore.

THE WATER-CURE VISITOR,

By JOEL SHEW, M. D., author of "Hydropathy, or the Water Cure," "The Water Cure Manual," "Water Cure in Pregnancy and Childbirth," "Water Cure in Consumption," &c. &c., is published monthly, at the low price of FIFTY CENTS per year. It is a popular work, designed especially for the aid of families, in cases of accidents and the emergencies of disease.

Address, post paid, SHEW & WELLINGTON, 184 Twelfth-st., N. Y.

DR. TRALL'S

WATER-CURE INSTITUTES.

AT No. 15, LAIGHT-ST. NEW YORK,

AND AT OYSTER-BAY, LONG ISLAND.

THE City Establishment enjoys a quiet, open, and airy situation, one door from the beautiful promenade grounds of St. John's Park, to which patients are furnished with a key. The house is provided with several Bathing-rooms, on different floors, some of which are kept warm day and night during the cold season. It is well arranged for winter treatment, and, for summer practice has all the advantages possible to a city locality.

The village of Oyster Bay is about twenty-five miles from the city, to which access may be had daily by steamboat or railroad. The opportunities for pleasant exercise, walking, riding, sailing, swimming, &c., are unsurpassed. The water of the numerous springs is not excelled in purity by any in the world. The buildings are entirely new, having been erected last year expressly for the business. The terms are as reasonable as at any establishment having equal advantages, in the United States.

DR. CHARLES S. ROWELL,

No. 11 Chambers-st., New-York,

Confines his attention to the practice of Dentistry, in all its various branches; and, from his long experience in his profession, he feels assured of rendering the most perfect satisfaction.

He would invite the attention of the public to his

which he will insert either on Gold Plates, by Atmospheric Pressure, or otherwise, and which cannot be surpassed in this or any other country. The improvements which he has introduced have rendered these Teeth perfect for SPEECH, MASTICATION, and NATURAL APPEARANCE.

The INSTRUMENTS which he uses in his profession are of the very Latest Improved Inventions, and are unsurpassed in variety and quality.

DR. ROWELL would also invite the attention of the public to his

PREMIUM INCORRUPTIBLE GUM-TEETH.

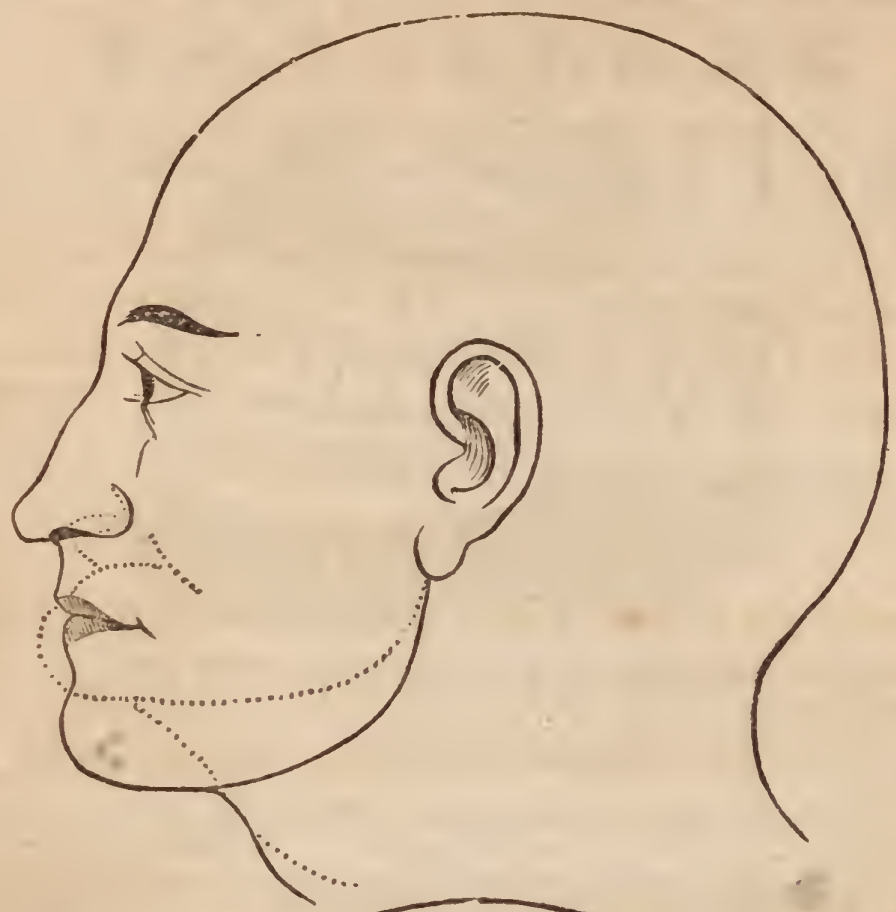

These Teeth have won the admiration of all who have seen them, and the warm approval and recommendation of all who have used or worn them. They imitate the natural appearance of the gum and teeth so closely as to defy the strictest scrutiny. He confidently asserts that they are a better and cheaper article than was ever before offered to the public.

☞ DENTRIFICE, selected from the very best materials, and prepared by himself.

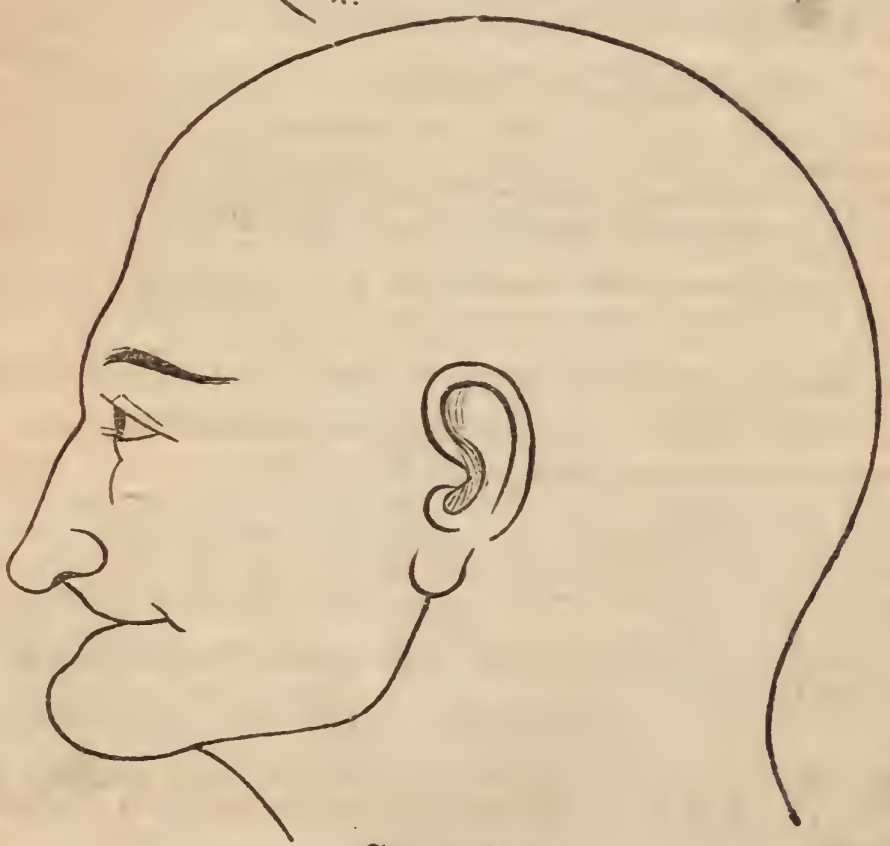

CHARLES S. ROWELL, 11 Chambers-st.

DR. ROWELL'S Office is but a short distance from the City Hall, and the principal Hotels in the City, and can easily be reached by Stage lines or other modes of conveyance.

(With whom he was formerly associated,) Continues the practice of the Dental Profession, as usual, at

NO. 2 UNION PLACE AND SQUARE,

Corner of 14th street, New York.

DR. S. LOUNSBERRY, SURGEON DENTIST,

Would inform his friends and the public, that he has removed his office from the corner of Broadway and Chambers-street, to 125 Chambers-street, near the Hudson River Railroad Station, where he will continue the practice of his profession. Persons needing full or partial sets of teeth, or those suffering from decayed and diseased teeth, would find it to their advantage to call on him at his office, as his whole attention will be devoted to the practice of his profession. His charges will be moderate, and every operation connected with his profession performed by himself, and with a degree of delicacy and success that will warrant the most perfect satisfaction.

Best Mineral Teeth set on fine Gold Plate, in a style not surpassed either for beauty or durability.

Nothing is more requisite to health or essential to beauty than an elegant and sound set of teeth, yet nothing is more generally neglected or suffered to go sooner to decay.

Thou haggard fiend! of hellish imps the worst!
To mercy deaf by sorrowing man accursed!
Though cheerless days made desolate by thee,
And long, long nights of sleepless agony
Have marked thy fearful reign in days of yore,
Thy power is crushed, thy scorpion sting no more
Affrights the helpless! for the Dental art
Commands thy gloomy terrors to depart,
Then wipes from Beauty's cheek the tears that burn,
And bids her roses and her smiles return!

DR. CHARLES MUNDE'S

AT NORTHAMPTON, MASS.

This Establishment is situated at Bensonville, on the bank of Mill River, two and a half miles from the Northampton Railroad Depot, seven hours' ride from New-York, about five from Boston, and five from Albany, in one of the pleasantest valleys of New England, surrounded with wood-grown hills, with shady walks, and abundantly supplied with the purest, softest, and coldest granite water. The air is pure and healthy, and the climate mild and agreeable. The new and spacious buildings offer all the conveniences for water-cure purposes, such as large plunge baths, douches, airy lodging rooms for about fifty patients, a dining saloon, two parlors with a piano, &c. There are accommodations for gymnastics, two boats on the river, etc. The Doctor being the earliest disciple of Priessnitz now living, and having an experience of more than sixteen years of his own (his writings on Water-Cure being in the hands of every European hydropath), hopes to respond to any reasonable expectations from the Water-Cure System, made on the part of those sufferers who may confide themselves to him. He, as well as his wife, will exert themselves to insure to their patients every comfort compatible with the chief purpose of their residence in the establishment.

Patients are requested to apply to the Doctor either personally or by letter, under the above address, giving a full statement of their case, and the result of their former treatment.

TERMS: For board and treatment, $10 per week. Ladies and gentlemen accompanying patients, $5 per week. Treatment out of doors, without board, $5 per week. To patients occupying attic rooms, or one room with another person, a reasonable allowance will be made. Consultations, either in person or by letter, $5.

☞ This winter the Doctor keeps an office in New-York, No. 5 Amity street, near Broadway, where patients may find him from 10 to 1 o'clock daily.

SELPHO'S FIRST PREMIUM ANGLESEY LEG.

Introduced into the country and made solely by W. SELPHO, 24 Spring-st., N. Y. This description of Artificial Leg derrives its name from the celebrated Marquis of Anglesey, who lost his leg in the battle of Waterloo, by whom it has been adopted and worn ever since its first invention by the late ingenious Mr. Potts, of London, to whom the present artist was 11 years a pupil and assistant.

"I have seen the artificial leg of Mr. Selpho; its construction appears excellent and well calculated to answer all the objects desired. But the best of all is the proof of those who wear them; this is positive and undeniable. Some of my friends whom I have mutilated inform me they are superior to all others.

DR. BLAKE'S AROMATIC BITTERS

IS THE ONLY EFFECTUAL REMEDY FOR CURING

Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Liver, Fever and Ague, and all Bilious Complaints.

It is purely vegetable, and has this peculiar property,—that while with ease it eradicates disease from the system, it also strengthens and invigorates the constitution, enabling the individual to resist more securely, morbid influences in future; and therefore it should be used by every family.

Thousands of persons in the United States have realized its beneficial effects; and testify to its virtues by recommending it to their friends, here and abroad, in all the public journals of the day.

Dr. Blake's Aromatic Bitters can be obtained at all the Drug Stores in the United States, and all the various agencies throughout Europe and the Canadas.

The Best and Cheapest Family Medicine in the World,

DR. ROBERTS'

COMPOUND

SARSAPARILLA PILLS,

AN ALTERATIVE, TONIC, DIURETIC AND MILD CATHARTIC.

Price 25 cents per box, containing 50 Pills.

Each box contains fifty Pills, which makes them as cheap again as any other standard Pill, and four times cheaper, and warranted much superior in the cure of various diseases to any of the Sirup mixtures sold; besides being a more convenient and proper form for use.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS which has attended the use of Dr Roberts' Compound Sarsaparilla Pills, is proof abundant and conclusive that they are truly unequalled.

The Compound Sarsaparilla Pills are used for the permanent cure of those diseases which arise from an impure state of the blood, and morbid secretions of the liver and stomach, and diseases arising from an injudicious use of mercury, and whenever medicine is required to invigorate and purify the system.

They are a purely vegetable compound, and may be used by persons of all ages. They are pleasant to the palate, and produce no nausea, uneasiness, or griping in their operation. Hundreds of certificates could be given of those who have used them with great benefit.

All applications for agencies and letters on the subject of the medicine must be addressed, post paid, to C. P. FAY, New-York, P. O. Box 1880.

Sold by all the principal retail druggists in New York-City, and in every town in the United States, Canadas, and West Indies.

A CHEMICAL COMPOUND, SIMILAR TO THE NATURAL OIL OF THE HAIR.

THE SPANISH HAIR GLOSS.

A clean, white, and beautiful preparation for promoting the growth, luxuriance, and beauty of the Hair—removing dandruff, scales, and scurf, and curing the cutaneous diseases of the scalp. Unequalled for keeping the hair moist, imparting to it a rich silky softness, and highly beautiful lustre. Its soothing and agreeable properties will be found remarkable, applied either to the head or irritations of the skin. It is unlike any of the Alcoholic and Oil preparations, so commonly used for the hair. Its superiority over all other hair preparations, consists principally in its power to remove the glutinous coating which obstructs the pores of the skin when it is unhealthy, and which prevents the follicles from exuding an oily substance, necessary to the natural moisture, beauty, and growth of the hair. If any preparation of art known can cause the hair to grow, the "Spanish Hair Gloss" will do it. Price 25 cents per bottle. Manufactured by C. P. Fay, Chemist, New-York. Depot 289 Broadway, room 42, up stairs.

Sold by all the Druggists and Fancy dealers in New-York, and in each town in the United States.

&c., No. 142 Chatham-street, first floor, N. Y.,

Opposite the Chatham Theatre, and over Smith & Risley's
Boot and Shoe Store, Sign of the Silver Eagle.

W. & W. H. LEWIS,

Respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have enlarged their Gallery, and fitted it in a style unsurpassed by any other in the city. They have perfected a powerful light, yet so mellow that they are enabled to take likenesses of Children and others in a few seconds, with perfect ease to the sitter, retaining a perfectly natural expression. The attention of strangers visiting the city, and others, is particularly called to the fine Likenesses of the Chippewa Indian Chief and his Sons, on the door posts and in their Gallery; they are dressed in full Indian costume, the same in which they appeared before all the crowned heads of Europe during their travels with Geo. Catlin, Esq.

They have paid particular attention to taking Children, having an Apparatus expressly for that purpose, acting in one-fourth the usual time. Hours for Children from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

Likenesses taken in Clear or Cloudy Weather, in a style unsurpassed, for ONE DOLLAR and upwards—including a neat Morocco Case; also inserted in Lockets, Breastpins, &c., at various prices. Likenesses of Sick or Deceased Persons taken.

Painted or Daguerreotype Likenesses accurately copied.

W. & W. H. L., having been the first regularly established manufacturers of Daguerreotype Apparatus in the United States, have steadily advanced in improvements in the various departments, and are now prepared to furnish every article of superior quality at the lowest prices.

Patent Machines for pressing Straw and Leghorn Hats, of the latest improvements. Hand, Brim, and Fluting Irons, Galvanic Batteries for Electro Plating, &c.

Frames for Daguerreotype and other Pictures constantly on hand and made to order.
